Reduced Draft Calls Anticipated by Laird

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird indicated today draft calls for the months ahead will be reduced as a result of the new troop reduction in Vietnam and an over-all 20,000 man cutback in U.S. armed strength.

"The Vietnamization program will have a very substantial effect on programmed draft calls for the months ahead," Laird told a news conference.

The defense secretary said he will inform the Selective Service System Friday of the planned changes and will urge Congress that same day to enact reform legislation designed to remove inequities in the draft.

Although Laird refused to say flatly there would be draft cuts, his words carried that clear intent. Sources hinted the October draft call of 29,000 probably will be reduced.

Administration sources indicated meanwhile President Nixon still hopes he may be able to move before the end of the year to boost U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam to about 100,000 men.

Even as Laird prepared for today's public detailing of Nixon's order Tuesday withdrawing at least another 35,000 troops from the war zone by Dec. 15, the sources said the manpower situation would be reviewed again, presumably before 1970.

Laird disclosed the latest withdrawal from Vietnam will include the remainder of the 3rd Marine Division, leaving only one Marine division in the northernmost I Corps and shifting more responsibility to the South Vietnamese 1st Division.

The Marine slice of the new withdrawal will total 18,457 men, including support elements.

The Army will send 14,263 men home, including a brigade and support elements.

The Navy cut will total 5,239 in construction battalions and support elements, while the Air Force will reduce by 2,541 men in combat squadrons and support outfits.

This total represents a 40,500-space reduction from the authorized ceiling of 549,500 men which never has been met. The actual number of men being pulled out totals about 35,000.

Added to 25,000 brought out during the summer, the new

Hit Two Enemy Targets

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli jets raided an Arab guerrilla hideout in Jordan and pounded Egyptian military objectives along the western shore of the Gulf of Suez today, the military command announced.

The jets flashed across the Jordan River in an attack on a guerrilla stronghold at Manshiya about eight miles south of the Sea of Galilee, a spokesman said.

The planes were called in after an Israeli border patrol drew bazooka and light-arms fire from Jordan while patroling near the Nev Ur settlement, almost opposite the target in Jordan, he added.

Israeli settlers watched as the planes dropped bombs and rockets on their objective only a few dozen yards from the Jordan River frontier.

The jets returned unscathed, the spokesman said.

In Egypt, Israeli jets struck military objectives at Ras Za'farana 70 miles south of Port Suez southern terminus of the Suez Canal, the military said.

All aircraft returned safely after Israel's seventh strike across the gulf in the past nine days, a spokesman added.

Farther north, Israeli and Egyptian artillery batted intermittently across the Suez Canal today, and one Israeli soldier was wounded, the Israeli army reported.

Egyptian antitank and artillery fire hit an Israeli patrol north of the Bitter Lakes, a spokesman said.

The army also said five border policemen were slightly wounded during the night when their patrol came under small-arms fire and a grenade attack between Bethlehem and Halhoul, in the occupied West Bank territory. The fire was returned and a search was launched, a spokesman said.

An earlier Israeli communique said an Israeli soldier was killed and another injured in artillery and small arms duels Tuesday across the Suez Canal. The communique said there was repeated firing along the canal, and the casualties occurred south of the Bitter Lakes.

Marine Unit Under Fire Before Leaving Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — A unit of the 3rd Marine Division which is being pulled out of Vietnam under President Nixon's withdrawal of 35,000 U.S. troops was attacked by a North Vietnamese force today and 15 Americans were killed.

Twenty-three Marines were wounded in the four-hour battle. The enemy lost 23 killed, military spokesmen said.

Further details were not available immediately.

Nine Americans and seven Vietnamese were killed in war accidents in the past four days, the U.S. Command said. Another 17 Vietnamese and 10 Americans were wounded in the incidents.

Most of the American casualties occurred Saturday. U.S. headquarters said eight men from the 1st Infantry Division were killed and 10 wounded when an explosive charge they were placing near an artillery base blew up.

The accident occurred 33 miles northwest of Saigon and is being investigated.

A U.S. Marine was killed Tuesday six miles south of the demilitarized zone when a helicopter rotor blade hit him. The helicopter was lifting a Marine patrol out after a brief fight.

The 24 South Vietnamese were killed or wounded in an American gunship attack Tuesday in the Mekong Delta about 100 miles southwest of Saigon.

The U.S. helicopter gunships opened fire with rockets and machine guns on suspected enemy troops who turned out to be civilians 18 miles northwest of Bac Lien, a provincial capital.

U.S. headquarters said four men and three women were killed, and 12 men and five women were wounded.

"The incident is being investigated," a communique said.

The enemy forces supposed to be in the area were never located, and there was no fighting, spokesmen said.

According to the U.S. account, South Vietnamese regional forces were landed in the area by American helicopters after intelligence reports that there were Viet Cong troops there.

"As the regional force troopers were landed," the U.S. Command said, "an unknown number of suspected enemy were observed evading from the area. U.S. Army helicopter gunships supporting the ground force were cleared by the senior government of Vietnam representative on the operation to engage the evading personnel with aerial machine-gun and rocket fire.

"The regional force soldiers searched the strike area and found seven Vietnamese, later identified as civilians, killed and 17 other Vietnamese civilians wounded by the gunship fire. There was no reported ground contact with the enemy, and there were no regional force or U.S casualties."

Asked why the people were fired on if they had not been positively identified as Viet Cong, a U.S. spokesman said: "It is not a friendly area. They were probably making a move

Reduced Budget Surplus Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lower-than-expected income may reduce the federal budget surplus below the target figure of $6 billion this year, the Budget Bureau said today.

In its tentative seasonal review of the budget, the bureau estimated a surplus of $5.9 billion will remain when the fiscal year ends next June 30. That would be a $400-million reduction from the estimate of $6.3 billion made last April. Last year the surplus was $3.1 billion.

A surplus of about $6 billion is essential to the fight against inflation, the government contends but a spokesman said no major conclusions should be drawn from the $5.9 billion.

"These figures are as close as you can come and they're all guess work," he said.

The bureau assumed in making the estimate that Congress will extend the income surtax from January to June at 5 per cent and will accept all of the administration's tax reform recommendations.

The administration's budget watchers say spending still will go no higher than the $192.2 billion ceiling President Nixon set in April. But income, instead of totaling $199.2 billion as predicted in May, will be $198.8 billion.

The largest single reduction in income is in the estimated yield from corporate income taxes. Although the administration is counting on its tax reform proposal to tax corporations considerably more than the $36.7 billion they paid last year, they still will pay only $38.5 billion.

Take Case For Airline To Capital

A delegation left Sedalia Wednesday morning to present the city's case for air carrier service before the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington.

Flying out of Columbia on Ozark Airlines — the carrier the city wants to serve it once the airport expansion is realized — were Mayor Ralph Walker; Bill Hall, Industrial director; Chuck Lawrence, Chamber of Commerce manager; and Dr. Holmes Wilbur, chairman of the Sedalia Airport Board.

The four will appear at a CAB hearing Thursday and Friday in Washington. The hearing is in regard to whether an operating certificate for Ozark Airlines will be reinstated for Sedalia, after being revoked in August, 1968.

An operating certificate permits an airline to service a community at its own discretion. The certificate for Ozark was revoked in 1968 due to the inadequate airport facilities in Sedalia.

Since then a $790,000 bond issue has been passed by Sedalia voters to improve the airport. A $700,000 federal grant was expected to complete the job.

Complications have arisen, however, in obtaining the federal share of the money due to budget cutbacks within the Federal Aviation Administration. No money is earmarked for Sedalia in the current fiscal year budget, and prospects are uncertain for next year's budget.

A further complication has developed in acquisition of land for the airport expansion. The city has been unsuccessful in purchasing land from residents in the area, and has authorized condemnation proceedings to begin. The prospect of lengthy court battles could move the airport expansion even further into the future.

In a sense the city is caught on the horns of a dilemma — CAB appears reluctant to reinstate an operating certificate to a city with an inadequate airport, yet the federal funds to improve the airport stand less of a chance of materializing unless Sedalia gets the Ozark certificate.

The Sedalia delegation is armed with testimony and exhibits to justify reinstating the Ozarks certificate — population statistics, retail trade and bank deposit figures, and the like.

One thing appears clear, however — unless the Ozark operating certificate is reinstated, the city will stand even less change of getting the FFA matching funds reasonably soon.

Brothers Are Killed

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Samuel T. Willett, 74, and his brother, Ira Willett, in his 70s, both of Centralia, Mo., were killed Tuesday when their car skidded off a county road and struck a tree about six and one-half miles north of Columbia, the highway patrol said.

Haynsworth Won't Give Opinions on Cases Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. declined to say today whether he agreed with the thrust and direction of the Supreme Court under former Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Haynsworth testified he felt he should keep an open mind on cases he will be called on to decide if confirmed as a Supreme Court justice.

"I wish I could respond more directly," he said at a Senate Judiciary Committee hearing on his nomination to the court, "but I don't see how I could without giving some indication of how I feel cases should be handled."

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who raised the question at the committee's second day of hearings, said he was trying to find out if Haynsworth thought the direction of the Warren Court should be reversed or modified.

"I don't think I should get into what I would do on the Supreme Court if I am confirmed," replied the 56-year-old South Carolinian who now is chief judge of the Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Instead of trying to put a label himself on the kind of Supreme Court justice he would be, said Haynsworth, it would be better for others who are more objective to decide on the basis of his 12-year record on the Circuit Court.

A similar line of questioning was pursued by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in contrast to the conflict of interest issue that dominated Tuesday's committee hearing on President Nixon's nomination of Haynsworth.

Hart told him that "certainly in the mind of the man who nominated you Earl Warren was not a strict constructionist" of the nation's laws and asked if Haynsworth considered himself to be a strict constructionist.

Haynsworth replied that he did not know what the term means and did not know that he was a strict constructionist. He

CROP Drive Is Launched At a Meeting

Cecil J. Brown, Elkhart, Ind., national field director for CROP, addressed a meeting of over 100 local CROP workers at the First Christian Church Tuesday night. Brown has recently completed an around-the-world trip to visit areas where CROP dollars have been put to work, and he showed several slides of the many areas that he saw.

Brown implored those persons present to try their best to make the fund drive successful so that CROP can continue to help those less fortunate and broaden its field of endeavor.

The meeting was opened by the Rev. James Williams, chairman of the Pettis County CROP board. He then introduced Joe Trower, CROP field representative for Missouri, who explained how the program for collecting funds for CROP will work.

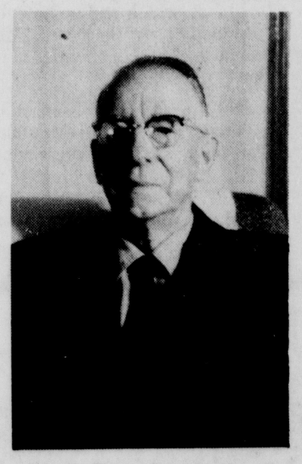
During the next week, door-to-door canvassers will call on persons living in Sedalia and the surrounding area and ask them to donate money or farm produce, either of which will be used in the many self-help and child care programs that CROP sponsors overseas. The county goal is $7,000.

Man Suffocates

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Fred Hall, 66, apparently died of suffocation in a fire at his apartment early today, police said.

The fire caused an estimated $300 damage, and was attributed to a defective electrical appliance.

Why I Will Support A New College



Lee H. Peabody, retired radio technician, 1319 South Osage, sates his feelings about the State Fair Community College bond issue:

"My wife and I have lived here in Sedalia for 50 years and we think that State Fair Community College is one of the finest things that has ever happened in this area.

"In its first year, this college has definitely proven itself to be a tremendous asset to the community, and it is obviously very popular with the students. With the fine start that the college has gotten, it would be a tragedy for the school to have to turn students away in the future who desperately need a good education at a low cost in today's fast moving world. This is what will happen if the citizens of Pettis and Benton Counties fail to provide the expanded facilities so vitally necessary now.

"Also, since I am a retired technician, I have been very much impressed with the vocational-technical programs at SFCC. These programs are one of the most valuable aspects of the college — a youth can take a two-year course and get a good high paying job that will enhance his usefulness to himself, to this area, and to society as a whole.

"This household will vote "yes" October 7.

Deadlock Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's welfare reform proposals remain lodged at the White House in their 11th draft because of kinks in the family assistance program.

Congress probably will have to wait another two weeks before receiving a final detailed package of welfare legislation, government sources say.

The President said last month he wants to replace aid programs for dependent children with a sweeping family assistance program that would provide minimum aid of $1,600 a year to a needy family of four.

And for the first time, a working family of four with income less than $3,920 a year could receive a cash supplement under the proposal.

Mail Snag In Charter Timetable

The City Charter Commission has run into a snag in its timetable by the refusal of the city Water Board to let the Charter Commission use the Water Board's mailing list and addressing machine to send Sedalians copies of the proposed city charter.

The Charter Commission presented its request to the Water Board at a recent meeting, but was turned down. Bob Mason, a member of the water board, said the board reasoned that, "If they did it for one, they would have to do it for others," including, apparently, opponents of the charter plan.

Donald Barnes, a member of the Charter Commission, said Wednesday that both groups were city agencies, and added that the Charter Commission was elected by the voters to prepare a proposed charter and submit it to the voters.

Louis Hughes, Jr., another charter panel member, said he thought the city might be able to require the Water Board to use their equipment to mail out the home rule documents.

The Charter Commission is having about 10,000 copies of the proposed charter printed, and intends to mail a copy to every Sedalia household. One commission member said an alternative form of mailing will probably be costly, and will have to utilize "occupant" type addresses.

Blackwell's Plan Is Defeated

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — The Missouri Senate defeated today a plan by Sen. Earl R. Blackwell, D-Hillsboro, to knock out any increase in individual income taxes.

The vote was a one-sided 26-7. It came after a debate of an hour and a half marked by conflict over tax yield figures and state needs.

Sen. T. D. McNeal, D-St. Louis, Senate Ways and Means chairman, said the only real question was whether the senators had the guts to do the job they were elected to do — run the state government in a responsible way.

It was the first time this year Blackwell had suffered a serious defeat.

During the regular session last spring he was successful repeatedly in defeating Gov. Warren E. Hearnes' plan to increase both the personal and corporate income tax. Blackwell claimed the money was not needed—an argument he used again to no avail today.

Sen. A. Basey Vanlandingham, D-Columbia, a former opponent of a personal income tax increase, handled the administration bill today.

He recalled that early in the regular session he and Blackwell had said $110 million in additional revenue was needed — the figure being used by the governor now — but they were unsuccessful in getting any of their tax packages passed.

Under those circumstances, Vanlandingham said he had changed his mind and decided to support the $112.7 million Hearnes plan. He said raising only the corporate income tax as Blackwell proposed would reduce Missouri to the status of "a caretaker state."

McNeal said everyone involved in the long tax fight helped create the fiscal crisis faced by the special session which opened Sept. 8 — the Senate, the House and the governor.

He recalled "the escalating bitterness" in the closing hours of the regular session which caused a corporate tax increase and accelerated collection of personal income taxes to be defeated.

McNeal said the legislature should recognize the rebellion of property taxpayers who object to carrying the heavy end of school costs and recognize its commitment to increase the state share to equal 50 per cent of school costs in the next four years.

Blackwell charged the senators had "refused to listen to

Telephone Program At Club

Bob Johnson, manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., in Sedalia, presented the program at the Optimist Club Tuesday noon at Bothwell Hotel.

Johnson showed two films, the first a cartoon type showing how good telephone manners can help business, and the second entitled: "Tom, Dick and Harriett." The latter film concerned a girl and her boy friends, one who kept calling her long distance, of which her father disapproved, and the other who wrote her letters.

The father insisted that long distance calls were a waste of money. But when he almost lost the sale of the family farm because he insisted on writing instead of calling long distance, he changed his mind.

The speaker was introduced by J. W. Watts, program chairman.

The Rev. Charles Hendrickson, president, presided over the meeting and the invocation was given by Wray Schroeder.

Guests introduced were: the Rev. Richard Leach and U. L. Parks, guests of Dr. K. L. Holdren: Ron Kellogg and Jerry Frerking, weight inspectors with the Commercial Motor Vehicles Department of the State Highway Patrol, guests of Charles Pieper: and Howard Pemberton, guest of Harry Wimer.

Concordia Fall Festival Nears

(Democrat-Capital Service)

CONCORDIA — The annual Concordia Fall Festival will be held Thursday through Saturday, with a variety of entertainment, parades, exhibits, and prizes scheduled.

Held almost every year since the turn of the century in this German community, the event has continued to grow until it has become one of the largest attractions in the area.

The Heidelberg Gardens, outdoor German restaurant and beer garden, has been one of the festival's highlights since it was started five years ago by the Concordia Lions Club. Featured in the gardens again this year will be German-style food, imported German and domestic beer, a variety of entertainment, and waiters and waitresses in German-style dress.

A mobile kitchen will aid the Lions Club in serving food in the Heidelberg Gardens. In addition to the meals served from the mobile kitchen, a snack stand serving hamburgers, summer sausage, raw hack and long john sausages will be open. Located in Central Park, the Gardens are in the midst of the fair activity, and have a capacity of approximately 1,000 persons.

According to Donald Holtcamp, Fall Festival executive board chairman, the fair will again open on Thursday afternoon with Kiddies Day and the kiddies parade. All rides will be at reduced prices for children until 5 p.m. On Thursday evening the religious and decorated floats parade will be held, followed by the coronation of the Fall Festival queen.

Friday afternoon there will be two ping pong ball drops by airplane, at 2 and 4 p.m., and Friday evening the annual KKK (Konkordia Komikal Krew) parade of comical floats will be held, which will be followed by a teenage street dance.

Saturday afternoon the 4-H dairy, beef and swine shows will be held, plus a baby health contest. The Grand Ole Opry from Nashville, Tenn., will present a show of well-known country music on Saturday evening. Heading the list of entertainers will be Johnny Wright and his Tennessee Mountain Boys, and Kitty Wells.

Also featured Saturday night will be a "battle of the bands" and open air dance for the young people. Johnny Dolan of WHB-Radio, Kansas City, will be the master of ceremonies.

Midland Empire Shows, Plattsburg, will be on the midway each afternoon and evening with carnival rides, booths and concessions. This will be the carnival's twentieth consecutive year at the Concordia Fall Festival.

Report a Total In Cancer Drive Across Country

The Pettis County campaign on behalf of the American Cancer Society has ended with $8,084.05 collected, according to Mrs. Paul Albin, campaign chairman.

The record collection breaks down as follows: Sedalia, $5,373.89; Pettis County, $1,655.85; memorials, $544.75; business, $451. In addition, Smith-Cotton High School students donated $58.56. The largest business gifts were from employees of Interstate Studio, $103, and workers at Panhandle Eastern Pipeline, $150.

Do you know that over 35 percent of the male graduates from local high schools have migrated over 50 miles from their local community within two and a half years after their graduation from high school, and that 82 percent of these young people leave this area to seek better employment opportunities?

The vocational-technical facility at State Fair Community College will allow the college to expand its vocational technical offerings at both the high school and college level, thus enabling our young people to acquire skills that can be utilized in their local communities.

This is one of many reasons to vote "yes" on Oct. 7 for the State Fair Community College bonds.

Change Apollo Schedule

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — One of three launch pad working shifts is being eliminated and computers may take over some human chores during the Apollo 12 countdown in November.

These are among the operational changes being worked out by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration as a result of manpower cutbacks and a launching schedule slowdown following Apollo 11's lunar landing.

Saturn 5-Apollo launchings are now planned at the rate of one every four months instead of one every two.

"We had three vehicles in process with two-month launch intervals," said Paul C. Donnelly, launch operations manager for NASA's Kennedy Space Center.

"With four-month intervals, we have two vehicles in flow instead of three."

Resulting adjustments include:

—A change from three to two shifts on the launch pad and a five-day instead of a seven-day work week on tests.

—Closing down one of the two Saturn 5-Apollo launch pads and one of three firing rooms in the launch control center.

—Taking out of service one of three Saturn 5 mobile launch towers and one of three moon rocket assembly bays.

NASA and its contractors are reducing the moonport work force by 5,600—from 23,600 last July 1 to an estimated 18,000 by July of next year.

Most of the 5,600 are expected to be let go by late October, before Apollo 12's scheduled Nov. 14 launch.

Boeing Co., builder of the Saturn 5's first stage, had two launch teams leading up to Apollo 11. One was responsible for Apollo 8 and 10 while the other concentrated on Apollos 9 and 11.

"We're now going to a single launch team, instead of two," said John J. Cully, deputy director of the Saturn program for Boeing's Atlantic Test Center here. "We can cover peak loads with overtime, working two 12-hour shifts back to back."

To ease the strain on the launch team, project officials are considering having computers watch for several "no go" conditions during the countdown — such as incorrect temperatures or pressures in fuel tanks — which previously were assessed by men monitoring consoles in the launch control center.

Two Attorneys To Be Honored By State Bar

Two veteran Sedalia attorneys, Omer E. Brown and Probate Judge Leo J. Harned, will be among the 38 Missouri lawyers to be named senior counsellors of the Missouri Bar at a special breakfast to be held in their honor in Kansas City Sept. 26.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton will be the featured speaker at the breakfast, which will be held in conjunction with the 25th annual meeting of the Missouri Bar.

The title of senior counsellor is conferred by the Missouri Bar on Missouri lawyers who have completed 50 years of service in the legal profession or who have reached the age of 75.

Gun Shop Owner Is Facing Charges

FORT SCOTT, Kan. (AP) — Myron Feemster, owner of the Central Gun Shop here, has been charged with violating the 1968 gun control act and a preliminary hearing has been scheduled for Sept. 26 in Kansas City, Kan.

Federal agents raided the shop Monday and said they confiscated more than 200 firearms.

U.S. Atty. Robert J. Roth said in Wichita that Feemster was accused of selling firearms to residents of Missouri.

Bob Hinds, a U.S. Treasury agent, said that under the law it is illegal for a dealer to sell guns to persons he believes do not reside in the state where he is licensed to sell firearms.

FORGET HOUSE PAINTING FOR 8 YEARS

HOLD-TITE VINYL LATEX HOUSE PAINT LOOKS GREAT ON YOUR HOME...long after ordinary paint jobs have had to be repeated. When applied as directed, Hold-Tite protects up to eight long years. It "breathes out" the inside moisture that causes blisters and peeling to eliminate these unsightly problems. And it's so easy. It goes on evenly, without laps, sags or streaking...in almost any kind of weather. Dries in minutes with no surface mars from bugs, leaves or dust. It's rain-proof, too. When you're finished, plain water cleans everything up in a jiffy. Choose from the "whitest" white there is or from the big selection of the latest colors. If surface needs priming, pick up Davis Da-Luxe House Paint Primer.

IMPORTANT: This may happen after painting: Where old paint is blistering or peeling, you must scrape down to bare wood and prime with Davis Da-Luxe House Paint Primer. Then, proceed as directed on the label of Hold-Tite House Paint. In some cases after a home has been painted with Hold-Tite, some peeling may occur where the old paint was not removed, usually near the places scraped. Actually, despite appearances, such old paint was not holding well. Merely scrape and touch up these places with Davis Da-Luxe House Paint Primer and a subsequent coat of Hold-Tite.

Injuries Prove Fatal

William Anderson, Kansas City, Kan., died Tuesday at Bothwell Hospital from injuries he suffered in a two car collision that occured September 5 just south of Warsaw on Benton County road RM-7. His injuries were received when the 1962 Ford he was driving swerved across the road and struck head-on a 1967 International Scout driven by Harrison W. Arnett, Warsaw.

Prices Go Higher For Ford Cars

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co., the nation's No. 2 automaker, today announced its 1970 model cars would cost an average of $108 more than current models, an increase of 3.6 per cent.

Ford, shooting for a bigger share of the market now held by industry leader General Motors, came up with a price boost smaller than GM's $125 or 3.9 per cent increase.

The company also said it was holding the line on the price of its fast selling little Maverick, which goes for $1,995. Next to the 1970 Hornet being marketed by American Motors, the Maverick will be the lowest priced American-made auto. American Motors says its new Hornet will sell for $1,994. Trying to avoid being put at a competitive disadvantage by GM, Ford changed its mind on its warranty program after General Motors announced it was sticking with its five-year, 50,000-mile power train warranty.

Ford, which had announced in August it was trimming its warranty to one year with no limits on mileage or number of owners, now says it will offer a power train warranty of five years or 50,000 miles at an additional cost.

Ford sold 27.5 per cent of the American-made cars marketed between Jan. 1 and Sept. 10 while General Motors held more than half the market.

Like GM, Ford cited increased costs in labor, materials and taxes as the prime reasons for the price hikes.

Both Ford and GM said a number of previously optional items, such as fiberglass belted tires, would be standard equipment on 1970 models.

Cars shipped for sale in California will be equipped with a mandatory exhaust emission control system priced at $35, Ford said.

The $108 dollar price increase posted by Ford includes the federal excise tax. Ford said the average increase in the list price of its 1970 models would be $103 compared to $119 for GM.

The list price does not include any taxes or dealer handling or delivery charges.

The Ford 1970 prices range from the $1,995 Maverick to the $6,822 for the Continental Mark III, up 353 dollars over 1969.

Labor Council Urges Action In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Labor Council urged its members Tuesday night to oppose a boycott of Krey Meat Packing Co. products.

The boycott, directed by the United Black Alliance, a Negro militant group, directly threatens Local 545 of the Butchers, Sausage Makers and Packing House Employes Union, the council said.

James E. Meyers, secretary treasurer of the council, said 139 stores have stopped carrying Krey products since the alliance initiated the boycott. He said many of the outlets were afraid to carry the Krey line following threats of unspecified action by the militant group.

The dispute between the alliance and Krey involves the dismissal of 23 employes earlier this year. The workers were later rehired but the alliance maintained the employes should have received back pay and additional compensation.

School Open Once Again In Belleville

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Belleville elementary and junior high schools resumed operation today as teachers returned to work under court order.

Charles Oswalt, superintendent of District 118, reported attendance as normal. Students were sent home following registration, a routine first-day procedure, he said.

Teachers, many of them members of Local 673 of the American Federation of Teachers, were enjoined last Friday to return to work for at least 30 days.

The order, issued by St. Clair County Judge Robert Bastien, also required the Belleville Board of Education to resume negotiations in good faith.

A dispute over cirriculum and salary kept schools closed until today. Classes were originally scheduled to resume Sept. 2.

The district enrolls about 4,500 students and employes about 200 teachers and administrative personnel.

Police Report

Police reported that a Volkswagen reported stolen by David B. Gaspard, 202 West Fourth, was located Tuesday in the 500 block of West 10th Street.

Gaspard reported the vehicle was stolen from in front of 1212 New England Drive, between 5 and 6 p.m. Monday.

The car was not locked and the keys were left in the ignition.

Don Vannoy, 807 South Marshall, reported to police Monday that several items of women's clothing valued at $16 had been stolen from his house Sunday night. There were no signs of forcible entry to the house.

Police Court

Ronald L. Pummill, 1203 South Stewart, charged with speeding and destruction of private property, pleaded guilty to the first charge and was fined $15, and pleaded innocent to the second charge but was found guilty and fined $10.

Ginger J. Phillips, 1113 Ware Ave., charged with speeding, forfeited $5.

Lending Rate Goes Up Again in London

LONDON (AP) — British commercial banks today raised their prime lending rate to 9 per cent, further tightening Britain's credit squeeze.

The increase followed similar action last week in Austria, West Germany and Switzerland. U.S. commercial banks raised their prime rate on June 9 to 8.5 per cent, the highest ever. But because of the Federal Reserve Bank's restrictions on lending, the prime rate actually works out to 10.6 per cent.

With the new increase in London, interest charges for ordinary borrowers go as high as 11 per cent.

The British banks said their action was taken "to reduce the current pressure on bank lending." Permission for the increase was given during a meetween Chancellor of the Exchequer Roy Jenkins and commercial bank representatives.

Accidents

One vehicle was towed from the scene of a two car accident at Tenth and Lamine at 11:12 a.m. Tuesday. Involved were a 1959 Edsel driven by Wesley E. Copas, 222 East 16th, going south on Lamine, and a 1965 Chevrolet driven by Terry E. White, LaMonte, who was headed west on Tenth.

The Cheverolet was damaged in the right front and towed, while the Edsel was damaged in the left front.

A 1969 Chevrolet driven South by Claude H. O'Neill, 2502 West 11th, was struck on the right side by a 1969 Chevrolet truck driven by Bruce E. Shirky, Route 2, at 5:24 p.m., Tuesday, in the 900 block of Griffith Street.

The truck was backing out of Wilson's Trailer Court at the time of the accident.

Shirky was cited for careless and imprudent driving.

James L. Woolridge, 601 West Fourth Street, driver of a 1964 Ford, struck a 1964 Chevrolet driven by Mary J. McKinzie, 412 East Saline, in the rear, causing moderate damage to both vehicles, at 3:23 p.m. Tuesday, at Broadway and Emmet.

Both cars were towed away.

A one-car accident occurred at Hogan and Ohio at 7:04 p.m. Tuesday involving a 1959 Ford driven by Marvin E. Sims, 107 East Henry.

The car traveled 136 feet after striking a road sign and utility pole.

The front of the vehicle was damaged.

A 1967 Dodge driven by Dennis L. Allen, Butler, pulled out of the Post Office parking lot at Fifth and Washington and struck a 1963 Chevrolet driven by Clarence H. Bottcher, 519 East 11th, stopped at a stop sign, at 4:04 p.m., Tuesday.

Circuit Court

Rex Hutchings, 206 West Seventh, owner of the Sedalia Ambulance Service, filed an appeal in Circuit Court Wednesday of an assault conviction in Police Court Sept. 12.

Hutchings was found guilty of common assault and fined $25 in connection with an assault against Sam Watson, 1214 East 14th, a driver for the Pettis County Ambulance Service.

The charges stemmed from an incident when both the Sedalia Ambulance Service and the Pettis County Ambulance Service responded to a call on Sept. 5.

No Plans For Plants In Libya

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Mahmoud Soleiman el Moughrebi, premier of the Libyan revolutionary government, said today that his regime does not plan to nationalize any industry and that one of its main goals is justice for the Palestinian Arabs.

The premier, interviewed in Tripoli by a correspondent of the Milan daily Il Giorno, said his government would not align itself blindly with either Western or Eastern countries. But he indicated U.S. and British bases would be allowed to stay for the time being.

El Moughrebi, 36, a native of Haifa and a former employe of a Western oil company, said the coup d'etat in Libya on Sept. 1 was not inspired by other Arab governments.

"Our revolution is young and it is difficult to say now what our plans will be," he said.

"I can say, however, that we will lean toward the lower classes. Socialism means social justice for us. Our people lived in ruinous conditions for 20 years.

"The monarchy blindly followed Western countries," Moughrebi said. "We do not want to follow anyone blindly, either Western or Eastern countries. We will ascertain the real interests of Libya and will act accordingly—certainly the Palestine problem has a great importance for us.

"For we Arabs it is certainly a great worry, and we think it should be of great concern for all mankind. One million and a half people were expelled from lands where their ancestors had lived for centuries . . .

"Our help will be varied, but we do not plan to send troops at present. We will continue to make a financial contribution, as the old government did—offering 30 million pounds yearly. We will see later by what other means we could help our brothers."

Pay Raise Approved By City

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The City Council of Oklahoma City formally approved a pay raise for city employes Tuesday but the action apparently had little effect on ending the current strike by sanitation workers.

The plan, which calls for a 50-cent increase in garbage fees to pay for the increased salaries, would give about 2,285 of the city's 3,126 employes an immediate pay raise ranging to a maximum of $20 per month.

Eleven pickets marched outside City Hall as the council considered the raise. The pickets carried signs saying "City Government deceived Sanitation Workers."

The Coalition of Civic Leadership, an organization of Negro civil rights, social and religious groups, has denounced the pay raises, claiming the city backed down on its original promise.

The City Council earlier approved "in principle" a $40-a-month pay raise effective Sept. 1 and a $20 raise effective Jan. 1. Council members later said their rate was not binding and refused to go along with the raise.

The striking workers had demanded a $100 a month raise effective immediately but later agreed to the $40 figure. The council's about-face and a refusal by City Manager Robert Oldland to promise to rehire all strikers in their original positions have kept the strike going.

Marine

that led the Vietnamese commander to believe they were enemy. I don't know whether the terrain was such as you could easily tell whether weapons were being carried or not."

Meanwhile, military sources said South Vietnamese troops will take over the entire defense of Saigon within the next 30 days, freeing a brigade of American paratroopers.

There was speculation that the 3rd Brigade of the 82nd Airborne Division would be among the 35,000 or more U.S. troops which President Nixon announced Tuesday would be withdrawn from Vietnam by Dec. 15.

The division's other two brigades are at Ft. Bragg, N.C. The 3rd Brigade's three battalions, numbering about 5,000 men, have been guarding the western and northwestern flanks of Saigon. One battalion already has been replaced by South Vietnamese paratroopers and has moved to the north.

A patrol from this battalion ambushed about 35 North Vietnamese soldiers Tuesday night 22 miles north-northwest of Saigon. There was five-minute exchange of machine-gun and rifle fire, and the U.S. Command reported one North Vietnamese soldier killed and six Americans wounded.

In a three-hour battle 23 miles northwest of Saigon, U.S. troops from the 25th Infantry Division and South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing 36 enemy soldiers. No U.S. casualties were reported, but some South Vietnamese soldiers were wounded.

Action also was reported in the Hiep Duc Valley 32 miles south of Da Nang, site of a 10-day battle last month in which both American and North Vietnamese losses were heavy. In day-long fighting Tuesday, two Americans from the 196th Light Infantry Brigade were killed and 21 wounded.

Enemy losses were not known.

Following Nixon's announcement of a second withdrawal quota, South Vietnam's new premier, Gen. Tran Thien Khiem, said in a broadcast that the program to build up the South Vietnamese armed forces is in high gear and "with these forces we can gradually replace the allied forces to share the defense of our national security."

Khiem, making his first public speech as premier, said 900,000 regular troops along with 90,000 national field police would be trained and equipped by the end of the year. Some 1.8 million persons in their villages act as local defense forces in case of attacks on their homes, the 43-year-old general said.

Moscow Radio criticized Nixon's announcement of another troop withdrawal as "just a drop in the ocean" and said the President "failed to reply to any points" in the 10-point peace plan put forward by the Viet Cong.

The Saigon government announced that 95 civilians and 13 local militiamen were killed by Viet Cong terrorists last week, while 23 militiamen and 285 civilians were wounded. Another 79 civilians and 14 militiamen were kidnaped.

Since Jan. 1, a total of 4,931 civilians have been killed, 12,697 wounded and 5,381 kidnaped in more than 8,000 terrorist incidents, according to government figures.

Name Replacement For Sen. Dirksen

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Ralph T. Smith, the speaker of the Illinois House, was named by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie today to fill the Illinois seat in the U.S. Senate left vacant by the death of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.

Smith, a Republican from Alton, was the expected choice after Atty. Gen. William J. Scott withdrew from the race Monday. Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., of Rockford, also was a strong contender to succeed Dirksen who died Sept. 7 in Washington.

Ogilvie made the announcement in his office. Smith, his wife, and Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., were present.

The governor said he telephoned President Nixon Tuesday to tell him of his decision.

Smith will fly Thursday to Washington to take the oath of office. The appointment is for the interim period until January 1971 when the winner of the 1970 general election will take office.

Haynsworth

said he has not so labeled himself.

Haynsworth said Tuesday his part ownership in a vending machine company doing business with a firm involved in a 1963 decision of his court had no bearing on his decision.

"I don't see any benefit that he got out of the decision in this case," Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., told newsmen after asking Haynsworth a series of questions.

Similarly, Sens. Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii, and Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky., said in separate interviews they heard nothing to indicate Haynsworth should have disqualified himself from ruling in the case.

The views expressed by Tydings, Fong and Cook, after listening to the testimony, indicated Haynsworth's position was drawing support from the committee's liberal-moderate bloc.

All three had been silent on the nomination of Haynsworth, now chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals.

Tydings, who also said it was unfair to call Haynsworth a segregationist as some civil rights leaders have charged, had joined earlier with Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., in requesting the judge disclose all his outside financial interests.

Haynsworth not only complied with this request but also submitted copies of all his income tax returns from 1957 to date.

He said the tax returns would show how much he received in fees as a director of Carolina Vend-A-Matic, a company he and a group of close associates founded in 1950 and of which he continued as a director until Oct. 15, 1963.

Blackwell

the facts. Their minds are closed and the votes are counted. . . . I've tried and tried to keep this body from making this terrible mistake. . . .

"I wasn't kidding the other day when I said there was going to be a referendum if this bill passes. It won't go into effect and the people will defeat it and defeat everyone who voted for it."

If that happens, Blackwell predicted the Republicans would control the House of Representatives in 1971.

Statements during the tax debate which started Tuesday indicated there also were differences of opinion over the so-called tax simplification features of the bill, making state terminology conform with the federal law to ease the job of filling out state returns.

Under the bill a tax table would be used by everyone making less than $9,000 in taxable income. McNeal said the tax reform features would actually lower the taxes for an estimated 250,000 Missourians.

Blackwell and others disagreed sharply on the revenue figures being tossed around.

He claimed his plan would give the state a balance of $83.6 million going into the 1970-71 budget year.

The governor says $110 million in new money is needed to finance the 1970-71 budget.

Reduced

Nixon decision will raise to 60,000 the number of American servicemen pulled back under the administration program to reduce the U.S. battle role and shift it gradually to the South Vietnamese.

Laird said the pull-back will result in an additional inactivation of 20,000 men from the over-all strength of U.S. armed forces. Most of these troop reductions will be from the Army and in the United States.

This brings to about 126,000 the slash in total U.S. armed strength announced by Laird as an economy measure related to the reduction in the U.S. commitment in Vietnam.

The Air Force has yet to announce its over-all manpower reductions reported to total 50,000. When this is announced, probably next week, U.S. strength worldwide will be down 176,000 from a ceiling of 3,544,000.

Beyond the 3rd Marine Division, which lost a regiment under the first 25,000-man Vietnam cutback this summer, Laird did not identify the units involved.

He said Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. commander in Vietnam, will release additional details in Saigon.

Laird avoided commenting on whether Nixon will try to meet the 100,000-man pullout hope voiced earlier.

Short Life for Electric Chair

OSSINING, N.Y. — (NEA) — One of the nation's antiquities is passing from the scene — at least temporarily.

The electric chair at Sing Sing prison is due to be removed.

Ostensibly, the framed and feared death implement is giving away to progress. Not social progress. Material progress. A super highway is to be constructed through what is now the Sing Sing death house.

Thus, officials say, the chair is not being abandoned but merely being moved to a new location.

There is a slight possibility the chair may yet wind up in a museum or garbage heap. New York correction authorities say the matter is "somewhat" flexible. No timetable has been set for reconstruction. The present warden at Sing Sing says, "Nobody's told me anything yet. I don't even know where the chair's going."

The chair is supposed to be going to Greenhaven Prison, where a new state death house is to be built.

But a debate is looming. For one thing, it would cost money to renew the chair's efficiency. And many people feel this is senseless, especially since New York state has only one man on death row — long-time prisoner Armando Cossantine — and has present laws which prohibit capital punishment (except in police deaths).

So, says one critic, a member of the New York-based Citizens Against Legalized Murder, "Why spend the money? The death penalty is dead, or dying. The nation hasn't had one since 1963. The Sing Sing chair is a relic of the past."

Relic indeed. The Sing Sing chair was first used on July 7, 1891, to kill a con named Harris Smiler. And since then its history has been almost synonymous with the American way of execution.

One man who remembers some of this history is Wilfred Denno. He was the Sing Sing warden for 17 years — and officiated at 67 electrocutions.

Says he:

"Well, I never got used to it. It was my job and my responsibility, but it was a bad part of it. I'd have to visit them (the condemned) from time to time, in their cells, and I got to know most of them fairly well. And I guess I always found myself hoping that something would happen, that their appeal would come through or something."

Warden Denno, now retired says he used to hold the executions on Thursdays, usually about 10 p.m. He says, "The before dawn stuff made it look too secret." Evening time was best to gather witnesses; and Thursday, a working day, was best to contact the governor — "just in case."

"The executions weren't much like you see in the movies," Denno explains. "I mean, I didn't have any direct line to the governor or anything. But I always checked with him, the day of the execution — always.

"The chair is made out of wood. It's an oversized thing. And the condemned man would be led to it by the deputy warden. Then an electrode would be put on his leg and a plate over his head.

"The executions were carried out exactly the same every time. The current was opened to 2,000 volts for three seconds, then dropped to 500 volts for 57 seconds. And the process was repeated once more.

"It always looked to some witnesses as if it took two current waves, and a couple of minutes, to kill the prisoners. But this isn't true. The initial shock of 2,000 volts — between 8 and 10 amps — kills.

"I feel we executed them instantaneously, in the most humane method known to man. Doctors tell me the man felt no pain because the shock is given so fast that such sensation can't be physically recorded."

But humanitarian though it may be, Warden Denno says he would not be saddened if the Sing Sing chair eventually went the way of the pressing stone.

He isn't ashamed of his part in the executions. He didn't make the laws, arrest the criminals, nor pass sentence of death upon them.

But:

"Condemned men are human beings, like anyone else. I tried to be as impersonal as I could toward them. But it's impossible. You can't help feeling sorry for a man who's going to die in the chair."

Seed-Spitting Title Retained by Youth

PARDEEVILLE, Wis. (AP) — Craig Jones, a Pardeeville teen-ager, has retained his world watermelon seed-spitting title with a record-shattering effort of 33 feet, 3½ inches.

Jones told spectators at the second annual World Watermelon Eating and Seed-Spitting Championships last weekend that he attributed his success to "continued training and clean living."

Corky Grimes, also of Pardeeville, was the grand champion eater—polishing off a large slice, seeds and all, in just 19 seconds. He shaved nearly a full minute off the record established in the more sedate and formal first annual tournament.

Geraldine Earns Her Own Fame

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

LIHUE, Hawaii (AP) — You see the evidence of her father in the eyes, especially when they squint into a smile. But when she speaks, it's certain that Geraldine Chaplin is her own woman.

She is the eldest of the eight children of Charlie Chaplin and Ooona O'Neill Chaplin and so far the most famous. As yet her acting fame has been based on her role of Omar Sharif's wife in "Dr. Zhivago," which she did when she was a very inexperienced 21. It showed. She seemed out of her depth amid a cast of skilled performers.

Now she is acting in her second major movie, costarring with Charlton Heston in "The Hawaiians." She plays plantation magnate Heston's wife, actually a composite of about six different island ladies in the James Michener novel, "Hawaii." This time Geraldine Chaplin feels prepared thanks to her experience in European films, most of them bad.

"The first picture I did was 'On a Beautiful Summer Morning,' with Jean Paul Belmondo, and it was pretty awful," she recalled. "Then came 'Zhivago,' which I loved. I thought I would be getting lots of offers for American pictures after that but I didn't."

Next came such dismal films as "I Killed Rasputin," (French), "We shall Go to the City" (Italian) and "Cop Out" (British). Her last three movies were Spanish-made—"Peppermint Frappe," "Stress," "Homecomb"—and she liked them all. No wonder. They were directed by one of Spain's brightest young directors, Carlos Saura, with whom she shares a Madrid apartment she bought with her "Zhivago" earnings.

Saura and his two young sons are living with Geraldine near the Kauai Island location in handsome house nestled in the crater of an extinct volcano. He is married, but being a Spaniard, the chances of a divorce are virtually nil.

"It doesn't matter to either of us," said Miss Chaplin. "We are perfectly happy the way we are."

The actress's engagement for "The Hawaiians" came quite by surprise, she said.

"The Mirisch company asked me to go to Hollywood and test for the role, so I did," she remarked. "Then they said, 'We'll call you,' and I figured that would be the last I would hear. But then they did call me, and I went back to Hollywood to begin preparing for the picture."

Film workers on "The Hawaiians" didn't know what to expect from the daughter of the famous comedian, who had left America amid much acrimony. They have been delighted to find her relaxed, natural—and perfectly frank.

Ann Landers

A Two Year Ride Comes To a Halt

Dear Ann Landers: While waiting for a bus on a morning in November, 1967 an attractive man asked me if I wanted a ride. I said yes, because it was raining very hard and I was late for work. He turned out to be a respectable family man and I was grateful for the lift.

Since that time he has picked me up on the same corner almost every morning. I figure he has saved me over $150 in bus fare.

Yesterday I was just about to get in his car when he handed me a note, slammed the door shut and left me standing there, literally dumb-founded. The note read: "Dear Passenger: I have enjoyed your conversation for a long time. I am afraid, however, that the animal in me is beginning to gnaw upon the man. Lest I find myself weakening in the manner of others who have hit the foolish forties. I respectfully suggest that you get back on the bus." It was signed, "Your friendly chauffeur."

I was flabbergasted and still am. Do you think he was trying to tell me something? If so what was his message? — Donnabelle

Dear D.: I don't think we need to page Marshall Luhan for this one. The message was — "You're beginning to look good to me, Kid, and I don't want to get involved, so please avail yourself of public transportation."

Dear Ann Landers: I married a man who comes from a closely knit family. By that I mean they tell each other everything. At first I thought the family closeness was beautiful, but now I see it is a neurotic dependence and largely infantile. My husband is the worst of the bunch.

Two weeks ago we were told the tragic news that my father-in-law has a terminal illness. My mother-in-law has already made it clear that she cannot live alone. Her oldest son's wife does not get along with her so she is safe. My other sister-in-law has a three-bedroom home and four children, so she is also safe. My husband and I have an extra bedroom.

Twice I have heard my husband say to his mother, "Don't worry, mamma, you won't have to live alone." If this means what I think it means it is the end of our marriage. I love my husband and we have two darling children but I could never tolerate his mother under this roof. Any suggestions? — Trouble Brewing

Dear T.B.: Your mother-in-law needs kindness and emotional support. It is your husband's responsibility to help her through this difficult period in her life. His principal responsibility, however, is to his wife and children. Remind him that it is unfair to make promises that he will be unable to live up to later. And I urge you to be specific so there will be no misunderstanding.

Dear Ann Landers: If a man is divorced and remarried, is it in good taste for his ex-wife to come to his father's funeral, sit in the front row, cry louder than anybody, go to the cemetery, stand at the graveside with the family, then show up at her ex-sister-in-law's house and drink coffee and eat cake? Or should she go to the funeral parlor very early or very late to avoid the crowd and stay in the background, out of the limelight? — V. G.

Dear V.G.: It depends on whether or not she wants an audience.

———

Reynolds Show Falls Far Short

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — There is nothing dreadfully wrong with NBC's new "Debbie Reynolds Show" except that we have seen it all before when the comedy reins were held tightly by an expert. Miss Reynolds, sad to report, has chosen to make her television debut in a series that is a faint carbon of "I Love Lucy."

Instead of old Fred and Ethel, Debbie has her sister Charlotte and husband. They wrangle a lot. Instead of Rickey, Debbie has a tall, handsome sportswriter husband. Debbie yearns to get a newspaper job, which is the excuse for the broad comedy and mugging.

In the first episode Tuesday, Debbie learned that the governor was going to play golf locally and her scheme was to find out his political plans by disguising herself as his caddy. You can imagine the hilarity when Debbie was caught in her facial disguise—mustache and sideburns—while still wearing a pink chiffon peignoir around the house. Then, of course, were the mad sequences when she was caddying and did not know a driver from a spoon. Debbie Reynolds is a talented and hard-working actress, but Lucille Ball she is not.

Debbie's premiere show was followed by the return of "Julia" for its second season. Diahann Carroll's show arrived with a new character, Dr. Chegley's 92-year-old uncle who is filling in during Julia's boss' vacation. The senior Dr. Chegley —Lloyd Nolan in a white wig— added a slapstick note to the series. Back at Julia's apartment, there were the same appealing children and, in a subplot, a little lesson in human relations.

NAME OF THE GAME is "Zarnitsa." According to Soviet sources, Zarnitsa is a popular game which involves about 16 million Russian schoolchildren know as Pioneers. These photos show some of the youngsters participating in events which included military tactics in the field, the dismantling and reassembly of guns, drill parade and song competition.

New Chamber Members Announced at a Meeting

Charles K. Lawrence, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce, announced six new members of the Chamber at the board meeting of that organization held Tuesday afternoon at the First State Savings Association Building.

The new members are Cooks DX, Gene Cook; Western Auto Associate Store, Wayne Mucke; Roth's Department Store, Ed McCormick; the Sedalia School of Ballet and Dance Arts, Marjorie Kelly; Waller Truck Line, G. E. Bahner, and McCully Insurance, Tom McCully.

Tom Keating, president, complimented Lawrence on his accomplishment, remarking that it was done without a special membership drive. Eighteen new members and two firms have joined the Chamber in the past six months, adding $960 to the treasury.

In a report on his first six months as executive manager, Lawrence told of the many events in which he had participated, representing the Chamber.

Dr. Marvin Fielding, director on the industrial committee of the Chamber, spoke of the bond election to be held Oct. 7, for permanent buildings for State Fair Community College. Dr. Fielding, dean of vocational technical education at the college, said he and some of the others at the college tried to find a room for another class and were unable to do so. The college has completely outgrown the building and this is only the third semester he said.

J. L. Mathewson, public relations committee, told of the banners that were put up on 16th Street and on State Fair Boulevard for the Missouri State Fair. Mathewson said the fire department put the banners up for the Chamber, and that this was no little job. When the wind loosened one of the banners, the firemen again fixed it. A letter was received by the Chamber from Wilbert Askew, secretary of the fair, expressing appreciation for this, for State Fair Market Days and other co-operation of the Chamber on behalf of the State Fair this year.

The cost of the banner came partly from the proceeds of the show, "Hello Dolly," and the rest from public relations money, Mathewson said.

Mathewson also spoke briefly on the work being done by the 13-man commission, of which he is a member, for the city charter. The proposed charter is now being printed.

James Edwards reported on State Fair Market Days, which he felt was a success.

A director on the retail merchants committee, Edwards also commented on the recent program on shoplifting and fraudulent checks, which he said was very badly needed. Within two weeks, he said, shoplifters had been caught twice in the J. C. Penney Store, of which he is manager, and had been prosecuted. He said that Fern Bunn of the Small Business Administration office in Kansas City, who had come to Sedalia to present the program, was very pleased with the large attendance.

The 4-H livestock sale was a success, it was reported, with buyers for all the beef. Donald Callis, agricultural and farm marketing director, who was not present at the meeting, did much of the work for the sale, Keating said.

Edwards reminded the directors that the Christmas parade had been set for Dec. 6.

Advance Plans For Two More Nuclear Tests

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission, pleased with the success of a near-megaton underground blast, pushed plans today for even more powerful weapons tests in Nevada and Alaska.

Robert Miller, the AEC's Nevada operations manager, termed "very successful" the detonation Tuesday on Pahute Mesa, 110 miles north of Las Vegas, of a nuclear device that shook several western states and made tall buildings sway as far away as Salt Lake City, 340 miles northeast.

The $3 million test, which Miller said was "very important to national security," had an explosive yield officially described as somewhat less than a megaton. A megaton is the equivalent of a million tons of TNT.

Unofficial sources estimated the force at about 800,000 tons and linked the blast with development of a warhead for an antimissile system.

An AEC spokesman said a one-megaton shot is scheduled at Amchitka, in the Aleutian Islands off Alaska, next month. If that area proves safe, he said, tests of several megatons will be conducted there in the future.

Agnew's Position Is Vague

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has come out against busing of pupils to achieve "an integrated status," but southern governors couldn't tell whether he spoke for the Nixon administration or only himself.

"This administration favors integration but not mandatory, enforced, artificially contrived social acceptance," Agnew told the Southern Governors' Conference Tuesday night, departing from his prepared text.

Agnew's antibusing remarks were greeted with scattered applause by participants at the lavish and formal state dinner climaxing the governor's annual conference.

But Virginia Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr. may have reflected sentiments of most southern chief executives when he said afterward: "I am still at a loss to understand what the administration's position is."

After Agnew said the administration favors integration, he then adopted the first person in his surprise departure from his text.

"I mean that on a subject as delicate as busing, for example", he said, "if you don't want artificially contrived integration brought about in a disruptive manner, then those people who are in charge of the state and local government have got to stop gerrymandering school districts. . .

"I also mean that young children of grammer school age, of pre-high school age, locked into their environment, which to them is their immediate neighborhood.

"And I mean that I'm against busing those children to other neighborhoods simply to achieve integrated status of a larger geographic entity."

Agnew declared there has been no "major retreat" on school integration as charged by some critics.

To Nominate New Chairman For the FCC

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dean Burch, the Tucson, Ariz., lawyer who was Barry Goldwater's hand-picked chairman of the Republican National Committee in 1964, will be nominated as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, President Nixon announced.

Nixon's announcement Tuesday of his intention to nominate the 41-year-old Burch to the $40,000-a-year FCC post followed several weeks of speculation that the former presidential campaign manager for Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater was to get the job.

The President also said he would nominate Robert Wells of Garden City, Kan., as a $38,000-a-year member of the commission. Wells is manager of the Harris Radio Group, which has stations in Kansas, Iowa, Illinois and Colorado.

Burch, the Senate concurring, will succeed Chairman Rosel H. Hyde, whose term has expired. Wells will succeed Commissioner James J. Wadsworth, who has resigned.

Stephenson is hospitalized with an ankle injury suffered on his last hunting trip when he was rescued after being lost three days.

100-Year Sentence For Jewelry Theft

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — John David Hay was sentenced Tuesday to 100 years in prison for his part in the $41,000 robbery early this year at the Highland park home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry English.

Mrs. English identified Hay, 26, as the man who joined a band of ski-masked, costumed raiders at her plush home last Jan. 13. The men took about 30 jewels, including Mrs. English's 4.94-carat diamond engagement ring.

Humphrey May Gain Platform

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee's new policy council is finally ready for business—and it may provide Hubert H. Humphrey with a platform from which to challenge President Nixon's performance.

Humphrey, the party's 1968 defeated presidential nominee and a possible candidate again in 1972, is chairman of the panel assigned to keep vigil on the Republicans.

Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, the party chairman, and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, the 1968 nominee for vice president, are vice chairmen of the Democratic policy council, which has been some eight months in the making.

Muskie and even Harris are considered possible 1972 candidates for the Democratic presidential nod.

Harris announced the council's makeup on the eve of a conference of Democratic state chairmen today, and a meeting of the national committee Thursday.

He appointed 20 Democrats, among them three governors, three senators, three members of the House and two big-city mayors, to the council executive committee.

Harris said 30 prominent Democrats later would be named members at large and six committees which deal with policy and issues in major areas.

Harris hopes liaison, and general agreement on the issues, would avoid the problem faced by a similar group during the Republican Eisenhower administration when Democratic congressional leaders regarded the council as an intruder.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, the Democratic leader, said he would be glad to work with the new council. "We just have to make up our own minds here, and do what we think is best, because we vote."

People In The News

NEW YORK (AP) — Shirley Temple Black has been sworn in as one of the 10 U.S. delegates to the U.N. General Assembly and will specialize on environmental and social questions.

After the ceremony Tuesday, the former child actress told a news conference she was concerned with "air pollution and water problems."

"I would hope we could work toward peace and human brotherhood and to improve the environmental situation in the world," she said.

MOSCOW (AP) — Gus Hall, general secretary of the Communist party of the United States, had a chat Tuesday with Leonid I. Brezhnev, general secretary of the Soviet Communist party Central Committee.

The Soviet news agency Tass' said they discussed party activities and pledged efforts to "develop the fraternal relations" between their organizations.

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP) — With the help of Prince Rainier and Princess Grace, American-born singer Josephine Baker has been provided with a permanent home for her 12 adopted children.

Her chateau in southern France was sold this year to pay debts, and she and the children—of various racial origins—had been staying in Barcelona.

The singer and the kids move in Thursday.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Singer Ricky Nelson, 27, is resting at home after his doctor ordered him to cancel appearances for a month because of a throat ailment.

All That Money Erases 'Minor' Physical Blocks

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk comments by a Pavement Plato:

A common dream among American girls today—and among many young men, for that matter—is the dream of marrying a millionaire.

One wonders why. But if you ask a poor working girl the reason she'd like to marry a millionaire—any millionaire—she looks at you as if you had gone daft and replies:

"Because he's got all that money."

It could be that a millionaire might also have acne, ulcers, athlete's foot, and a cast in his eye. It makes no difference. He's still got all that money.

Of course, when a girl dreams of marrying a millionaire she idealizes him as well as his money. She envisions him as tall, dark and handsome, young, deeply romantic, poetic and generous to a fault. She has the idea that the first thing he will do after they leave the church is to take a bag of gold off his shoulder and divide it into two piles—his and hers.

And since he is generous to a fault, he will gallantly see that her pile is slightly larger than his.

The fault with this picture is that it is hardly typical of the average millionaire.

Your run-of-the-mill millionaire is usually middle-aged, partly bald, has a bulgy stomach and is already married to a woman who watches over him and his money like a hungry vulture. Romantic? Pah! Like any other cost accountant, the figure that interest him most are those in a ledger.

Suppose, however, he is still a bachelor. Do you think that, like Prince Charming, he spends his days and nights running around the kingdom trying to fit a glass slipper to a poor but honest sackcloth-clad Cinderella.

Not him. Making money is ordinarily a time-consuming passion in itself. Your ordinary millionaire has no idle hours to spend in vain pursuits. Ask him if he is looking for a poor working girl to marry, and he'll reply:

"Are you out of your mind? I already have one dependent I'm supporting—Uncle Sam. What do I need with another?"

Money likes to mate with money. A millionaire sees no logical reason why it isn't as easy for him to marry a rich girl—thus parlaying his fortune—as it is to marry a poor girl with no social position.

Alas, for the fading dreams of the poor working girl. But an even colder-watered truth applies to the poor young man who wants to wed a millionairess.

Even if this dream should come true, it probably would turn into a nightmare. For when a rich woman marries a poor man for his charm she gets the better of the bargain. She gets his charm—but that doesn't mean he gets her money.

A rich woman tends to wear a poor husband as if he were a watchfob. He is a dollar-pecked prisoner of her purse strings and must beg prettily for his spending money or a new suit. She may give him a bright new sports car, but if that same evening she thinks he pays too much attention to another woman, she can take it back the next morning. And she will.

Concedes Delays For Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has acknowledged that virtually all his major legislative proposals will be held over by Congress until next year, Republican sources say.

At a lengthy session Tuesday with GOP congressional leaders, Nixon put his legislative proposals on a green-light, red-light basis, the sources said.

In the green-light classification were bills the President will press for immediate action. But these generally were measures which Congress must consider this year since they extend programs already operating.

The red light group designated proposals Nixon is said to feel won't be acted on until next year—including most of his major recommendations.

Among the measures rated in the red light category:

—Postal reform creating a self-sustaining corporation to take over the mails.

—Crime-fighting measures including bills on organized crime, illegal gambling, and immunity from prosecution so testimony can be pried from reluctant witnesses.

Among the other Nixon measures already assigned to the red light list are his welfare, manpower and revenue sharing proposals; drug control; mass transit development; unemployment insurance and voting rights revision and extension.

Among the bills rated on Nixon's green light program were foreign aid, export control, food stamps, housing, aid for hospital construction, student loans, education aid, obscenity control and coal mine safety.

Nixon also told the leaders he wants action this year to extend the income surtax, and provide tax relief and reform.

Senate Democrats have refused to approve a long term surtax extension without tax reform. The latter issue is now before the Senate Finance Committee.

Nixon also was quoted as urging swift action on draft reform—an unlikely prospect.

After nine months in session, Congress has acted on little major legislation. The Senate, for example, has been locked all summer in debate on a single bill, the $20 billion military authorization measure.

Constitution Week is Noted By DAR Chapter

The Osage chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution is observing "Constitution Week," Sept. 17-24, complete with proclamations signed by President Richard Nixon, Gov. Warren Hearnes and Mayor Ralph Walker.

The observance will coincide with the 182nd anniversary of the signing of the United States Constitution.

The DAR urged all citizens to fly the flag and otherwise observe the anniversary.

Crash Landing

Workmen examine damage to World War II German Stuka plane that fell to the floor from the 40-foot ceiling of the Museum of Science and Industry while it was being lowered for its annual cleaning. Two workmen, standing on balcony, top center, were injured when a winch failed and the plane's wing grazed the edge of the balcony. Only damage sustained by the plane was a crumpled wing and two flat tires. Plane, one of several hanging from museum's ceiling, landed on its wheels. (UPI)

This is the way it's going to be. Pontiac's 70's

Surprised that Pontiac's setting the style for the umpteenth straight year? Of course not.

But you may be a bit dazzled to find out that Pontiac finally outdid Pontiac.

Take Bonneville. From the strong, new bumper grille to the standard 455 under the hood, it's a rouser.

Inside: instant limousine. So luxurious some of the traditional big boys are already screaming.

One of the nicest things we could have done for Grand Prix's luxury was to leave it alone. We did. But we popped in a 455 V-8 for you to order. (It's an old Pontiac proverb that luxury should have power.)

Enter LeMans Sport. A brand-new series in the Pontiac stable. Wait'll competition sees it pull the new 400-cubes-under-the-hood trick. We'll show you that one if you check the right box on the order form.

By now, you've spotted our '70 GTO. But maybe you haven't heard it. A sound so tough we've thrown modesty to the wind and dubbed GTO "The Humbler."

This is Pontiac '70. And we figure this is the way driving's going to be. So why wait?

It's at your Pontiac dealer's now.

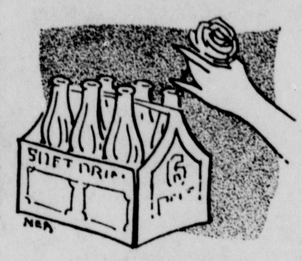
Ideas, Anyone, on What to Do With 300 Marbles?

By POLLY CRAMER

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—Over the years, I have collected over 300 marbles. I would like some suggestions as to how I could display or use them.—M. B. W.

DEAR POLLY—I am sure there must be many more office workers who like to carry flowers from their gardens to place on their desks. I put a carton of empty drink bottles on the floor in the back of my car. Long-stemmed roses and other such flowers may be carried in these bottles filled with water or a partition in the carton might be broken down so as to allow the insertion of a small vase of flowers. No tipping, spilling or wilting of the flowers.—CHARLOTTE



DEAR POLLY—Recently my husband and I took our children to a drive-in movie and, while waiting for it to start, we discovered that the windshield was much too dirty for us to have a clear view. I remembered there were several of those premoistened disposable towelettes in my purse and they saved the day—or night. They work as well on windshields as they do on grubby little hands and faces.—E. M.

DEAR READERS—Of course, they do a better job if you have something with which to dry the glass.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—Mrs. R. J.'s problem with her fingers turning black where her gold ring touches them can be easily remedied. A jeweler coated the inside of my gold band (not the stone) with plastic. I later found that when this wore off, colorless nail polish worked just fine.—MRS. R. S.

DEAR POLLY—Perhaps Mrs. R. J.'s fingers turn black under her rings after she has fixed a meal. My grandmother told me not to worry about mine turning, for when peeling vegetables the juices work up under the rings and just rinsing one's hands with the rings on does not help. Remove the rings, wash your hands with soap and then wash the rings separately. Dry well before putting them back on. This is a little trouble but just one of the hazards some of us encounter with gold rings.—MRS. R. L. R.

Kaycee Royals Close the Gap

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Kansas City, driving hard to become the most successful expansion baseball team in history, achieved the first of its four first-year goals Tuesday night, but Manager Joe Gordon said, "We won't break out the champagne until we clinch third place."

The Royals nipped Seattle, 2-1, as Wally Bunker pitched a four-hitter and drove in the winning run with an eighth-inning double.

That gave Kansas City the season series with the Pilots, the American League's other expansion team, by 10 games eight.

"This was one of our goals," Gordon said of edging Seattle in the season series, "and I hope Mr. Milkes isn't too disgraced."

Gordon referred to Pilots General Manager Marvin Milkes.

"He said it would be a disgrace if the Kansas City club beat his club this season," Gordon added.

Kansas City's other goals, Gordon said, are to avoid 100 losses, win 71 games for an expansion team record and capture third place in the American League West.

All three of these goals are still within reach, although the 71 victories will take some doing. The Royals have won 62 and must win nine of their remaining 15 to do it. They have won 10 of their last 16 in a stretch drive.

"If we can achieve all of these things," Gordon said, "it would indeed be a wonderful year.

"Realistically, the 71 wins will be tough. We've got three games left with Minnesota. . .

"We're going to exceed our other goal with our next victory. That is to not lose 100 games. Both National League expansion teams have already lost 100."

Bunker not only stymied the Pilots with his pitching, but crossed them up by swinging away in a bunt situation in the eighth to lash a double for the winning run in a game that required only 1:45 to play.

Bob Oliver led off the Royals' eighth with a single. With the Seattle infield pulled in, Bunker stroked the ball down the left field line. Oliver streaked home from first.

"It was just a fake bunt," Gordon said. "Bunker has been with an 11-10 record and has thrust himself into contention as the A.L. comeback player of the year.

"Bunker has got to be one of the top men for the award," said Gordon. "He has just been super."

real good handling the bat. They were charging everybody, and it's darn near impossible to bunt in that situation."

It was Bunker's third straight victory, including a one-hit, 3-0 win over California last week. He now leads the Royals' staff

Football, football, football that's just about all you hear about now-a-days and the World Series is still three weeks away. With all the rain we had early in the week, I wouldn't be surprised if someone didn't schedule a boat race on 16th Street.

Baseball took the backseat last weekend, but from looking ahead at this weekend's schedule, it seems as if the gridiron may push baseball headlines out of the papers.

Time takes its toll; with that in mind, let's proceed and take a look at some area games this Friday night.

The Smith-Cotton Tigers, who found themselves on the short end of a 36-12 score with Marshall, will travel to Fulton to tackle the Hornets (and let's hope tackling is a little more predominate this week than last).

Jefferson City, who fell victim of a late TD and a two-point conversion against Kansas City Central, meets Oak Park on the road.

Columbia, a 28-18 winner over Jefferson City Helias, hosts University City.

Hannibal, a team that sported a mere 5-4-1 record last year, but downed Fulton last week, will battle Kirksville at Kirksville.

Mexico, who defeated Marceline last week, hosts Helias.

In the West Central Conference, Clinton hosts East; Eldorado Springs is at Warrensburg; Pleasant Hill travels to Harrisonville and Butler goes to Knob Noster.

Windsor plays at Warrensburg College High; Centralia will play host to Paris; Lexington will be playing at Marshall; Slater travels to Excelsior Springs.

In yet other area games, Camdenton will be at Iberia; Tipton travels to California; Versailles is at Boonville.

Oh, yes, if anyone is interested, the Big Eight opens play this weekend. That schedule stacks up like this: Oklahoma State is at Arkansas; Tulsa at Colorado, Air Force at Missouri, Kansas State at Baylor, Iowa State at Syracuse, Kansas at Texas Tech, Oklahoma at Wisconsin, and USC is at Nebraska, what a slate.

The United States Auto Club (USAC) held a midget race last Thursday night at Capital Speedway near Jefferson City. The field of cars and drivers was great, but the crowd didn't show. I hope the USAC stock car feature scheduled for the Missouri State Fairgrounds' one-mile track Oct. 11 draws at least enough spectators to dirty the stands.

Will Attend University Band Event

COLUMBIA — More than 4,000 rainbow-clad junior and senior high school musicians will pack the Memorial Stadium football stadium for the University of Missouri-Columbia's 24th annual Band Day, Sept. 20.

Smith-Cotton High School and Smithton High will send their bands to the big event to represent Pettis County and the central Missouri area.

Other musical groups from this area that will make the trip to Columbia are: Warsaw High School, Clinton High School, Warrensburg High School, Higginsville High School, Odessa R-VII, California High School, Morgan County R-I, Versailles High School, Malta Bend High School; Marshall High School and Sweet Springs R-VII.

The half-time program will begin with "Military Escort," arranged by Harold Bennett and featuring trumpets and trombones. Lester Milgram, a 1939 UMC graduate, former drum major and President of the Band for two years, will direct the number.

Pickard, who has been on a year-long leave-of-absence to attend the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, New York, will conduct the second piece, "Those Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines," a salute to the Air Force.

In their final number, the bands will pay tribute to band directors throughout the state with F. E. Bigelow's "Our Director." Conducting will be Robert Scott, President of the Missouri Band Association and band director at Ruskin High School in Kansas City.

Pickard says Band Day 1969 will be more challenging than in past years since Missouri schools have only recently opened and the bands have not been practicing long.

The bands will gather at 9:30 a.m. on the field west of the stadium to practice and will move to the stadium immediately after rehearsal.

Smallest bands this year will be from Stockton High School and Metz R-II, both with 30 musicians. Largest will be from Columbia Hickman High School with 160 members.

Wrestling Results

Danny Little Bear made use of an Indian leg lock to win over Jack Armstrong in the special event.

Ronnie Etchison and Lucille Dupree teamed against K. O. Cox and Sandy Parker in the semi-final event. Cox won the first fall, but Etchison and Dupree came back in the second and third falls to post their win.

The main event was a death match with no disqualifications, falls did not count and one wrestler had to be unable to continue. Pat O'Connor wrestled the Great Koika for 23 minutes and 35 seconds. O'Conner won the death match decision.

MU's Terry McMillan Aims for Improvement

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Terry McMillan, the third - string high school quarterback who obliterated Alabama's proud defense in the Gator Bowl last December, has no illusions about the task facing him this football season.

McMillan darted through the Crimson Tide to three touchdowns in Missouri's 35-10 trouncing of Alabama, yet he feels he must prove himself all over again as the Tigers launch a new season here Saturday against the Air Force Academy.

"I feel I've got everything to prove this year," McMillan said in a recent interview. "I feel that the losses we suffered last year (only three in 11 games) were largely attributable to the quarterback.

"As impressive as the Gator Bowl win was, I think it might have been even more impressive with a better quarterback."

McMillan admits he needed confidence in 1968 after transferring to Missouri from Missouri Southern Junior College at Joplin.

"I couldn't really believe I was good enough to play Big Eight football," he said, "and play for a team as strong as Missouri. I felt off and on during the season that I could do it. But only after the Kansas game (a 21-19 loss) did I feel they had confidence in me."

McMillan now has confidence in himself, but he feels he must prove it to others who saw his inconsistency in 1968.

"I think I realize the seriousness of this game a little more than last year," he said. "I've got the experience and congidence now."

McMillan might have had his confidence so eroded in high school that he might have given up football altogether.

Other quarterbacks in his high school in Coral Gables, Fla., at the same time he played were Larry Renz, the University of Florida's No. 1 quarterback; Tom Warren, Florida State's backup quarterback who was a high school All-American; and Bill Kirkland, quarterback at Presbyterian College. That is why McMillan was third string and went to a junior college.

After completing 56 of 113 passes for 745 yards and rushing for another 357 yards last season, however, McMillan now appears entrenched as Missouri's No. 1 quarterback for '69.

"I know my passing will have to improve for our team to be more versatile," McMillan said. "I would say my arm is medium—maybe a little below average. I would say I have to use faking and other things for me to get a man open so I can hit him.

"I feel I'm the starting quarterback now, but I know any one of these other guys can move up and do it, so I can't let up a minute."

Practices Set For LL Football

The first practices for the Sedalia Little League Football program have been scheduled.

Tonight at 5:30 p.m., the fourth and fifth grade children are scheduled to practice at Liberty Park Stadium. Then at 6:30 p.m., the sixth and seventh graders will practice at the same location.

There is still time for boys to sign up to play in the program this year. The deadline has been extended until the end of September. To date more than 100 boys have signed up for the program.

Officials of the Sedalia Little League Football League say that boys who are playing soccer may also play in the grid program.

The 15-member board was elected recently; the officers elected included Joe Van Horn, president; Bill Rabourn, vice-president and treasurer; Rick Fullerton, secretary.

The equipment standards were also established at the most recent meeting of the board. For boys who do not have any of the required equipment, it will cost about $10 to outfit them.

The current idea in the minds of the officials is to combine the fourth and fifth graders and the sixth and seventh graders, which would give each team about 30 members.

The next board meeting is tentatively scheduled for Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. at the Missouri State Bank.

To Honor Beliveau

QUEBEC (AP) — The Quebec Aces of the American Hockey League said Tuesday it will retire jersey No. 9, the number worn by Jean Beliveau of the Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League when he played for the Aces.

Warren McVea Very Happy About Move

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Warren McVea, who was traded to Kansas City recently by the Cincinnati Bengals of the American Football League, reported to the Chiefs Tuesday and said he was happy about the move.

"It's the greatest thrill of my life to play here," the running back from the University of Houston said. "I've known Coach Hank Stram about six years. I've got all the respect in the world for him."

McVea, who just finished a stint in the Marines, said he was "not really in great shape. I usually play at 180 to 185 pounds and I'm 187 now. I don't think it will slow me down any. When I ran the 40 in 4.4 seconds I weighed 187."

Cincinnati Coach Paul Brown switched the speedster to wide receiver but McVea declines to compare the jobs. "I can't say one position is tougher than the other," he said. "You just have to make the ends meet no matter where you play."

Stram, who traded kicker Horst Muhlmann and a fourth-round draft pick for McVea, has one week to decide what to do with the second-year pro.

"It is contingent on how well he does this week," said Stram. "He'll study and we'll talk about the plays. When he listens to them being called and watches their execution, his learning process will be speeded up considerably."

If Stram adds McVea to the roster, he will have to cut someone as the Chiefs are at the AFL limit of 40 players.

Dave Richards Posts Another 'Clean Sweep'

Richards won a "clean sweep" by posting the fast time (:23.70), winning the trophy dash, the fast heat and the money feature.

His most impressive win was during the fast heat when he started in the rear of the field and worked his way to the front by the white flag lap and winning over David Van Dyne in that final circuit.

Results

Time trials — Dave Richards, :23.70.

Trophy dash — Dave Richards, Sedalia; Rick Kimberling, Gilliam; David Van Dyne, Sedalia; Russ Flair, Blackbourn.

Slow heat — Gerald Miller, Marshall; Mike Krumsick, Gilliam; Ed Grimes, Slater.

Fast heat — Dave Richards, Sedalia; David Van Dyne, Sedalia; Jimmy Walters, Sedalia; Bob King, Kansas City.

Money feature — Dave Richards, Sedalia; Rick Kimberling, Gilliam; David Van Dyne, Sedalia; Jim Walters, Sedalia.

Consolation — Clell Furnell, Sedalia; Bob King, Kansas City; Harold Miller, Marshall.

St. Louis Stars Will Have Clinic

The St. Louis Soccer Stars in co-operation with the Sedalia Khoury Soccer League, will present a soccer clinic, Sept. 27 at Centennial Park at 6 p.m.

At the completion of the clinic, there will be an exhibition soccer game between the Stars and a team made up of area players.

The Stars are a unique team in professional soccer in the North America Soccer League because 14 of the 18 players on the team were born and raised in St. Louis.

Pat McBride

The other four teams in the league in 1969, Baltimore, Dallas, Atlanta and Kansas City, fielded teams made up of foreign players.

This is an unprecedented move on the part of the management of the Stars organization.

There is only one way that the American athlete can hope to compete against the foreign soccer player: That's by getting the experience needed for the tough professional competition.

One of the players from the Stars that will be in Sedalia during the soccer clinic is Pat McBride who wears uniform number eight.

McBride was born in St. Louis; he weighs 165 pounds and is 5'10" tall. He was a forward and halfback for the Stars last year.

McBride started playing soccer when he was only eight years old. He was a member of the United States Olympic soccer team, as well as a member of the 1969 U.S. World Cup Team.

The Stars' player has been a professional player for three seasons. He graduated as an all-American from St. Louis University and has exhibited exceptional ball control and good shooting ability as a pro.

National League Roundup

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bacon and eggs . . . ham and swiss . . . lettuce and tomatoes. None of them go together as well as Juan Marichal and Candlestick Park.

Marichal, the high-kicking right-hander, pitched the San Francisco Giants into first place in the National League's hectic West Division race Tuesday night, beating Atlanta 2-0 on a four-hitter.

It was routine, almost automatic for Marichal, who is virtually unbeatable in Candlestick Park. The victory gave him a 13-1 record at home this season. He is 19-10 over-all, meaning away from home, Juan's mark is a somewhat mediocre 6-9.

Elsewhere in the National League Tuesday, Chicago tripped Montreal 5-4, San Diego drubbed Houston 8-1, Pittsburgh downed Philadelphia 9-5 and Los Angeles swept a doubleheader from Cincinnati, winning the opener 2-1 and taking the nightcap 3-2 in 12 innings. New York's game at St. Louis was postponed by rain.

In the American League, New York nipped Detroit 7-6 in 13 innings, Kansas City trimmed Seattle 2-1, Minnesota blasted Oakland 11-3, Cleveland clipped Boston 5-2, Baltimore blanked Washington 1-0 and Chicago took a doubleheader from California 7-4 and 3-2.

The shutout was the eighth this season for Marichal, tops in the National League, and his sixth at Candlestick. He has allowed just one run in his last 45 innings pitched at home.

Hot-hitting Willie Mays drilled three hits and doubled home one of the two San Francisco runs. The other came on consecutive second inning singles by Ken Henderson, Jack Hiatt and Hal Lanier.

It was the eighth consecutive complete game for Marichal and his 25th route-going effort in the last 33 starts.

The victory moved the Giants back into first place and completed a four-day move from fourth place to first in the West.

LA's sweep moved the Dodgers into second place, one-half game behind the Giants and one percentage point ahead of the Braves.

Wes Parker drove in all three Dodger runs in the nightcap victory including the winner on a 12th inning single after Ted Sizemore had doubled and reached third on a fielder's choice.

The Dodgers rallied for two runs in the ninth inning to take the opener. The first run scored on a bases-loaded walk to Willie Crawford and the second on Johnny Bench's throwing error as the Cincinnati catcher attempted an inning-ending double play. Bench's double had driven in the game's first run with an eighth inning double.

San Diego dealt another jolt to Houston's waning hopes, tagging the Astros with their sixth consecutive loss. Tommie Sisk coasted on a seven-hitter with Nat e Colbert and rookie Ron Slocum slamming home runs.

The loss left the fifth place Astros six games behind the Giants with just 16 games remaining.

Chicago used home runs by rookie Oscar Gamble and veteran Billy Williams to beat Montreal. The victory combined with the Mets' rainout at St. Louis, moved the Cubs back to within four games of New York. The Mets' magic number remained at 11.

Pittsburgh used a 13-hit attack including homers by Jose Pagan and Al Oliver to whip Philadelphia. Matty Alou tagged three hits and Bob Moose, 11-3, struck out 13 Phillies for the victory.

Johnny Callison homered for the Phillies.

American League Roundup

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

You'll have to give Dave McNally credit for one thing—he'll do anything to shake off a losing streak . . . even get a hit.

McNally, who had produced only six hits all season and an anemic .071 average going into the game, singled home the only run as Baltimore nipped the Washington Senators 1-0 Tuesday night.

It gave the left-hander his second straight victory—the first time since his 17-game two-season victory string was snapped Aug. 3 that he's managed to string together that many triumphs.

Meanwhile, Harmon Killebrew took another big step toward winning the American League homer title away from Frank Howard and Reggie Jackson by walloping his 44th of the season—a three-run shot—in leading Minnesota past Oakland 11-3.

That increased the Twins lead over the A's to 10 games in the AL West and cut Minnesota's magic number for clinching the crown to just six.

In other games, Cleveland whipped Boston 5-2, Kansas City nipped Seattle 2-1, the New York Yankees topped Detroit 7-6 in 13 innings and the Chicago White Sox won a doubleheader from California, 7-4 and 3-2.

In the National League, Chicago shaded Montreal 5-4, Pittsburgh whipped Philadelphia 9-5, San Francisco blanked Atlanta 2-0, San Diego whipped Houston 8-1, and Los Angeles swept a doubleheader with Cincinnati, winning the first game 2-1 and taking the nightcap 3-2 in 12 innings. The New York Mets game at St. Louis was rained out.

McNally, who won his first 15 games this season, boosted his record to 19-6, although he needed Ed Watt to get the last Senator out.

His clincher was a bloop single to center in the sixth, scoring Merv Rettenmund, who had singled. McNally also sent Howard to the fence in left for his liner with the bases loaded and two out in the second, and led off the fifth with a double although he didn't score.

Killebrew, who was 6-for-6 with four homers and 12 RBI in the three games with the A's before his sixth inning strikeout, lofted his three-run homer into the left field pavillion in the first inning.

It raised his major league-leading RBI total to 134 and put the stocky slugger just two away from the AL homer leading totals of Oakland's Jackson and Howard.

John Roseboro, with his third homer, and Leo Cardenas, No. 10, came up with consecutive solo homers in the fourth to add to the rout.

The Twins then put it out of doubt with six runs in the fifth, when Rod Carew drove in two runs with a triple, Cesar Tovar two with a single and winner Jim Perry, 19-6, and Cardenas one each with singles.

Despite the sweep of the series with their only contender, Twins Manager Billy Martin refused to talk about a title yet.

"After six more wins or when we win this thing, we'll start thinking about Baltimore," said the freshman skipper.

Wally Bunker checked Seattle on four hits and drove in the winning run with a double in the eighth in lifting his record to 11-10—making him the Royals' winningest hurler.

Ken Harrelson's three-run homer, his 29th, in the eighth snapped a 2-2 tie and gave Cleveland its victory over the Red Sox. Jose Cardenal, No. 10, also homered for the Indians, while Rico Petrocelli hit his 39th for Boston.

Bobby Cox' sacrifice fly in the 13th inning produced the Yankees' winning run after Jerry Kenney opened the inning with a single and moved to third on Thurman Munson's single. Tom Shopay was purposely walked, loading the bases before Horace Clarke's flyout set the stage for Cox' winner.

The Tigers had tied it with three runs in the ninth, including two on Jim Northrup's homer. Clarke homered for the Yanks.

Catcher Duane Josephson, in the starting lineup for the first time since June 21, hit the first pitch tossed to him and also scored a pair of runs in leading the White Sox to victory in the nightcap. Rookie right-hander Bart Johnson earned his first major league triumph in the opener.

Big Eight Briefs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Most Big Eight Conference football teams worked outside Tuesday in preparation for Saturday's non-conference opening games but rain sent Missouri's squad into the field house where it competed with registration activities.

It was the second straight day that wet weather stymied Coach Dan Devine's plans for the home opener against the Air Force Academy.

"These are two of the most important days of the year for us," Devine said. "We've scouted Air Force and we know what we have to do but we're having trouble doing it because of the weather."

Oklahoma held its final contact drill before traveling to Wisconsin.

Coach Chuck Fairbanks said, "We emphasized all phases of teamwork and practiced on goal line offense and defense."

The Kansas Jayhawks worked out twice, once under the lights, in anticipation of Saturday night's game in Lubbock, Tex., against Texas Tech.

Coach Pepper Rodgers called the drills "ordinary" and said, "I have no way of knowing if we will be ready Saturday night or not. We are not ready at this time."

Kansas State will take 52 players to Waco, Tex., for the Baylor game and Coach Vince Gibson said the Wildcats would use two punters.

He said Jim Crowl will punt with the wind because he kicks "a high ball." Dave Payne will punt against the wind because his kick travels close to the ground, he said.

Coach Eddie Crowder put the Colorado team through a two-hour drill stressing offensive blocking to tune up for the home game against Tulsa.

Crowder said linebacker Rick Ogle stands a 50-50 chance of seeing action Saturday. He said he was especially pleased with the way quarterback Bob Anderson has progressed this fall.

SHAVING STROKES

1-The Weekend Golfer

Too many golf instruction columns, I feel, are aimed over the heads of the ordinary player. The typical member of a country club in the United States plays between 35 and 50 rounds a year and those rounds are, usually, at varying intervals. He will play two or three days in succession during the summer and then may not have a club in his hands for two weeks.

Anyone with normal athletic aptitude who plays golf four or five times a week cannot help being a good player. But the ordinary golfer who has to make his living at something other than golf rarely gets enough time at the game to develop a reliable, keen feel for fine shotmaking and all the other finesses required.

It is no wonder, then, that he keeps looking for secrets that will give him the right answer quick and easy. In our next 14 installments, we will investigate methods by which the occasional golfer can improve his game.

(NEXT: Mental Toughness.)

Don't look like a duffer on the course. Frank Beard covers every phase of golf in his new book, "Shaving Strokes, 75 Steps to Winning Golf." Ready for School

The young gentleman on the left is Viscount Linley, age 7, who arrived at the Ashdown School, Forest Row, England, to begin as a boarder. His mother, Princess Margaret, chats with the headmaster, W. G. Williamson, as the Viscount gives the school master the once-over. (UPI)

United Fund Presentation To Optimists

Roylee Peters, publicity chairman for the Sedalia Pettis County United Fund, was the guest speaker at Sunrise Optimist Club Tuesday morning at State Fair Restaurant.

For the first time in the history of the United Fund, the goal was made last year and exceeded by $2,200 Peters said. This year the goal is set for $84,000.

Explaining the work of the 12 agencies, he told how many are involved in these programs. In the Red Cross swimming classes there are 800 local youngsters, and this is just one part of the many things done in Pettis County by this organization. There are more than 800 boys and 250 leaders in the Boy Scout program, and approximately 600 girls and 190 leaders in the Girl Scout program.

The Melita Nursery and the Minneola Nursery, both local state licensed day care centers, provide day care service for children of mothers who must work, and 75 percent of the Minneola budget depends on the United Fund.

Peters said that the Boys Club is one of the most consistent agencies that the United Fund supports, and has a membership of 290 boys. This organization would like to expand its facilities and its membership, but is hampered by the lack of funds.

This year, he explained, the Pettis County 4-H Junior Leaders are providing helpful programs for underprivileged children. The 4-H Clubs are another United Fund agency.

Child welfare provides emergency medical treatment and care of a child if it is necessary before they can be put in a foster home. None of the money goes for administration expenditures for the welfare office. Children's Mercy Hospital in Kansas City provides medical care, diagnostic treatment and rehabilitation of children whose parents cannot pay, but if they can pay they are charged according to their circumstances. Many Pettis County children go to the hospital each year.

At last count 57 local area servicemen took advantage of the USO services overseas and this does not include the traveling USO shows, Peters stated.

The Salvation Army provides many needs of the community and one of its community services is the Golden Age Club.

The United Fund campaign is Oct. 6-26, Peters said.

The meeting was presided over by Wes Raines, president, with invocation by the Rev. Marvin Nobles.

Mr. Nobles, president-elect announced committee chairmen for 1969-70 as follows: Wayne Tinseth, vice-president-elect will be vice-president in charge of external committees which include: boys' work, chaired by Roy Lawson, and community service, chaired by R. L. (Bob) Settles.

Darrell VanBaale, vice-president-elect will be vice-president in charge of internal committees.

Bill Watson will remain secretary-treasurer. Sergeant-at-arms is Bill Trout and song leaders are Jim Doerr and Gene Cook.

Wes Raines announced the installation banquet will be held Monday.

More Trouble for Frenchmen

PARIS (AP) — Big and thick like a heavyweight boxer, the leader of the Communist group in the French National Assembly leaned forward on the balls of feet, the heels of his hands on the rostrum.

His head thrust forward, Robert Ballanger said with obvious satisfaction to the hostile Gaullist majority on the violet velvet benches before him:

"The disastrous situation in which we now find ourselves, you say, is the result of international circumstances."

"You ask us for sacrifices." He raised his hands in mock surprise. "This is a far cry from the arrogant speeches to which we became accustomed during more than 10 years"—the past 10 years when Charles de Gaulle was France's president.

Ballanger cited Premier Jacques Chaban-Delmas' general policy statement made to the assembly earlier Tuesday, which called for a national effort to make devaluation of the franc work.

"It sounded like a funeral oration for your predecessors," said Ballanger, recalling that in 1966 De Gaulle had said, "There is no currency stronger than the franc."

"I won't press the point," said the Communist ironically. "It would be too cruel for you."

When he finished, the Gaullists and their allies—who hold more than three fourths of the assembly's 487 seats, hooted and banged the tops of their desks. The 33 other Communists applauded as Ballanger returned to his bench.

In the subsequent ballot on the premier's request for a vote of confidence, the government won an easy 369-85 victory. But the government's problem is not the National Assembly.

If Chaban-Delmas and his ministers are to restore economic health to France, they must convince the trade unions to moderate their demands and stop striking. Government economists maintain an atmosphere of labor calm is needed to avoid a cost-price push and to restore confidence.

They fear a chain reaction of wildcat strikes may be starting, more or less with the benediction of the Communist party and its trade union, the CGT.

Trainmen went on strike last Thursday. Paris urban transport workers have begun a series of work stoppages. Postal workers have served notice they will walk out early next month. The ground crews of the internal airline, Air Inter, began a 24-hour strike at midnight.

Gaullist deputies acknowledge the paradox: They hold an unassailable parliamentary majority, but the Communists control the factories and the public services.

Man Is Arraigned

MEXICO, Mo. (AP) — Glen Wayne Fox, 26, charged with criminal assault, was arraigned in Audrain County Magistrate Court Tuesday and ordered held for a preliminary hearing Oct. 1.

Fox is accused of abducting a 17-year-old girl Sept. 11 as she walked her dog in Fulton, Mo. She told police he forced her into the trunk of his car, took her to an apartment in Fulton and molested her.

World News In Brief

SEOUL (AP) — A radio broadcast said about 80 persons drowned today when their ferry capsized on the flooded Naktong River near Namchi, about 160 miles southeast of Seoul.

Radio Dong-A reported that 20 others swam ashore.

The floods, South Korea's worst in 10 years, took at least 273 other lives and caused millions of dollars damage, mostly in the southern rice bowl provinces of Cholla South and Kyungsang South. Another 114 are reported missing.

President Chung Hee Park held an emergency session of his Cabinet in Pusan today to survey the damage and to discuss relief plans.

A U.S. military spokesman said there were no casualties among the 50,000 American troops in South Korea.

The floods were caused by heavy rains which lashed the southern coast from Sunday until today. Officials reported the rivers were subsiding. Rescue and relief workers, assisted by military personnel and equipment, were carrying out full-scale cleanup operations.

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa (AP) — Prime Minister John Vorster says he is going to call a general election early next year, a year before he has to. He says a rift in his ruling Nationalist party threatens to weaken the government.

Vorster made the announcement after opening a party congress Tuesday night. He said he would call parliament into session shortly before the election.

Vorster is under fire from Albert Hertzog, a former Cabinet member and leader of the party's conservative wing, who accuses the prime minister of laxity in the application of South Africa's apartheid policy of racial segregation. Hertzog, 70, has not forgiven Vorster for ousting him from the Cabinet last year on account of his age.

In the 1966 general election, the Nationalists won 126 of the 170 seats.

PANAMA (AP) — Guerrilla activity has flared up again in northwest Panama near the Costa Rican border, reliable sources say. National guardsmen killed one guerrilla, captured two and wounded one last week in Piedra Candela, the sources said. One guardsman was reported seriously wounded.

Two other guardsmen, a sergeant and a private, were reported slain in an ambush last Friday while riding in a jeep across a bridge in the Cerro Punta area of Chiriqui Province. Official sources said cattle rustlers were to blame.

Piedra Candela was the scene of clashes between national guard troops and antigovernment guerrillas shortly after the military junta led by Col. Omar Torrijos overthrew President Arnulfo Arias last October. The government claimed the guerrillas were supporters of Arias.

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — A 24-hour rail strike touched off violence and arson in Argentina's major cities Tuesday, and a union leader said the strike would be extended for two more days, until midnight Thursday.

Antonio Scipione, president of the National Railroad Workers Union, made the announcement from hiding. He is not recognized by the government as the union's leader and has been sought by the police since the government took over the union three years ago.

The strike tied up the nation's two most important railway lines, between Buenos Aires and San Carlos de Bariloche, and between the capital and Tucuman. An estimated 20,000 of the nation's 170,000 railroad workers were reported honoring the strike in defiance of a government law putting them under military law.

In Rosario, Argentina's second largest city, demonstrators burned 20 shops, a nine-car commuter train, and at least 20 vehicles, including some buses and trolley cars. A general strike was called by unions sympathetic with the striking trainmen.

In Buenos Aires, a policeman was injured when terrorists tossed a hand grenade at a pursuing police car after setting fire to a railroad signal station.

The workers are demanding an increase in wages, which have been frozen since 1967 under an anti-inflation program.

The hansom cab is a light, two-wheeled, covered carriage with the driver's seat elevated behind.

LIKE A GIANT SERPENT, a section of 30-inch pipe is set in place by sideboom tractors. The massive concrete anchors attached are to keep the pipe in place in Louisiana's bayou country. The line is anextension of the nation's natural gas network which now covers more than 860,000 miles.

Censorship Resistance Is Planned

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Spokesmen of two major television networks say they plan to resist censorship and cater to more sophisticated viewers, but that orders to play down violence will stay in effect.

"Television is becoming more permissive all the time," Michael H. Dann, CBS-TV senior vice president for programs, told a meeting of nearly 400 broadcasting and advertising executives Tuesday.

"I know we are going to continue to be more adult."

Mort Werner, NBC-TV vice president for programs and talent, said he saw no concerted drive to censor telecasts and as for "a lowering of the curtain, I don't think so."

"I don't think the networks are going to knuckle in," he added.

Both spoke in answer to questions by members of the Hollywood Radio and Television Society who expressed apprehension over censorship threats.

"Eight to ten years ago there was an intoxicating excitement in television, with an occasional 'hell' and 'damn,'" said Harry Ackerman, vice president and executive producer of Screen Gems, Inc.

"Suddenly it's like Czechoslovakia. Everything's changed. Are the networks going to knuckle in to Pastore and institute a new dark age of censorship?"

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., who has conducted an investigation of TV program content, is an outspoken critic of violence on the home screen.

Dann commented, "Violence in our society is coming from social change. TV in effect is not responsible for it."

But, he added, "we're going to continue a de-emphasis on violence at all times."

William Self, president of 20th Century-Fox Television, recalled that about a year ago Dann called a producers' meeting on employment of Negro actors and asked if Dann had a progress report.

"All anybody has to do is turn on a set and know there is a phenomenal, explosive use of Negro performers," said Dann. "The great challenge for the industry is to get people on the other side of the camera."

'Slaughter Season' Is Just Ahead for US Drivers

NEW YORK — (NEA) — According to the calendar, the slaughter season is here. From now through December, the body count will rise.

No, not in Vietnam. In the United States—on the highways.

The National Safety Council reports that the final four months of most years are the bloodiest for motorists—and this year should be no exception for the nation's 105 million drivers.

Nobody knows exactly why this is. Auto travel actually tapers off after summer months. So the authorities are left to blame it on worsening road conditions, longer evenings, back to school and so forth.

But whatever the reason, 20,000 or more people may be killed on the roads in the next four months.

That would be six or seven times the expected Vietnam toll.

Last year, setting still another record for carnage, the nation's drivers caused 55,200 deaths, 3,477,000 injuries and a staggering $11.3 billion in costs.

The National Safety Council records sketch an accurate—if not very lovely — portrait of the slaughter season's expected vehicular fatalities:

Most deaths will happen to vehicle drivers or passengers. According to Safety Council mathematics, about four times as many motor occupants are killed as pedestrians. In 1968: 45,400 to 9,800).

Most will happen in rural areas. Although injuries and property damage mishpas occur most frequently in urban areas, more than twice as many vehicular deaths happen outside the cities. In 1968: 37,700 50 17,500.)

Most will happen at night. Vehicular death occurance is actually only a few thousand more at night, in 1968: 29,300 to 25,900) but the rate per-number-of-miles-traveled is, at night, three times higher than day.

Most will happen at certain hours and days. Safety Council charts indicate evening rush hours, Saturday evening (early or late) and Sunday morning are worse. Most deadly time in general: 4 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Most will be caused by collisions. In 1968, some 22,500 died from vehicles colliding with vehicles, 9,800 died in collisions with pedestrians and 5,100 died in collisions with trains, bicycles, fixed objects, etc.

Most will happen off limited access roads. The federal interstate highway system, more than 25,000 miles complete, had a death rate of about 3.0 per 100,000 miles traveled in 1968; the rate for other roads was 7.5.

Most will be caused by males. There are 61.5 million male drivers and 43.4 million female drivers. Last year, men had a fatal accident rate of 84 per 100,000 drivers; the female rate was 35 for every 100,000 drivers.

Many will be caused by alcoholic involvement. No figures are available (due to varying methods of accident recording) but most officials feel that drinking is a factor in at least healf of all road deaths.

Many will be caused by speeding. More than three out of 10 of last year's fatalities were caused by excessive vehicle speed. "At 55 miles per hour," officials say, "a person in an accident is twice as likely to die than at 45 miles per hour."

Many will be caused by young drivers. A safety official snickers, "Never trust a driver under 30." This age group is cause for a disproportionate number of road deaths. The 20-24 bracket especially — 118 deaths per 100,000 drivers.

And, finally according to Don Lhotka of the National Safety Council's traffic department, many accidents in the coming slaughter season will no doubt be caused by people who think they are good drivers.

Says he, sadly:

"People will drive for 20 years with a spotless record and then, bang, it'll happen. It only takes one careless moment. Nobody is too good a driver to be complacent. Nobody ever outgrows the driving hazard."

In Ranks

Sergeant Richard Douglas, Emmetsburg, Iowa, is on duty at Tuy Hoa AB, Vietnam.

Sergeant Douglas is a fuel specialist in a unit of the Pacific Air Forces. Before his arrival in Southeast Asia, he was assigned at Reese AFB, Tex.

The sergeant is a 1966 graduate of Emmetsburg Public High School. His wife, Evelyn, is the daughter of Staff Sergeant and Mrs. Carl D. Tarter, Whiteman AFB.

Senior Chief Builder Walter R. Dexheimer Jr., USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Dexheimer Sr., Route 1, is serving with U.S Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 53 at Camp Haskins North near Danang in Vietnam.

The battalion is serving an eight month deployment in Vietnam. Its primary duty is to support Allied Forces in the I Corps area with large and small-scale construction projects. It also conducts numerous civic action projects.

The battalion is homeported in Davisville, R. I.

Army Major Robert D. Haggard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Haggard, Windsor, received the Bronze Star Medal recently near Da Nang, Vietnam.

Maj. Haggard was presented the award for meritorious service in ground operations against hostile forces in Vietnam.

At the time of presentation, he was commanding officer of the 516th Personnel Service Company near Da Nang.

Airman Bruce Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arne Bidstrup, Lincoln, is among the thousands of personnel from Keesler AFB, Miss., who joined a massive effort to help nearby communities recover from the devastation of Hurricane Camille.

The Keesler airfield is the center of airlift operations for giant cargo planes which brought food, supplies and medicines, and for continuous shuttle missions by helicopters.

The airman, a graduate of Southeast High School in Kansas City, Mo., attended the University of Missouri.

U.S. Air Force Major Ronald E. Gardner, Oak Ridge, Tenn., is attending the Armed Forces Staff College at Norfolk, Va.

The five-month Department of Defense school is operated under the direct supervision of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and prepares students for positions in joint and combined commands that involve more than one country or military service.

The major's wife, Joan, is the daughter of Mrs. Monta Taylor, Windsor.

U.S. Air Force Sergeant Allan L. Lutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Lutz, Tipton, is on duty at Korat Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

Sergeant Lutz, an aircraft mechanic in a unit of the Pacific Air Forces, previously served at Otis AFB, Mass.

BPW District Conference Is Held At Osage Beach

District IV-S Conference of the Missouri Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., was held Sept. 14, at The Osage House, Osage Beach, with Mrs. Nyra Price, Sedalia, director, presiding.

The speaker was Mrs. Elma Lee Brown, Bowling Green, president-elect of the Missouri Federation, whose stressed the fact that the members of the organization should be proud, for this year it observes the 50th anniversary of the National Federation. At this time, she stated, they might recall the progress of their own clubs, some that have had national officers and state officers. Look backward to evaluate, she said, and forward to "Build, Plan, Work," which is this year's theme for the Federation.

She urged that they not only work to get new members but to retain all the members they now have and she added that member participation is important.

Community service is a necessary thing for clubs and two things she mentioned were crime prevention and physical and mental health programs. As a town builds, clubs grow, she said, and the clubs should help their towns build.

Mrs. Brown talked on personal development and of making use of the talents and abilities of members. She emphasized the value of members getting on their feet to talk, being active in legislation, and that the budget be planned from membership dues, with the money making projects being used for only special things.

The invocation was given by Myrtle Long, president of the Waynesville Club, and the pledge of allegiance led by Alberta Stevenson, president of the Gravois Mills Club.

Guests introduced by Mary Jodts, president of the Sunrise Beach Club were Faye Mabry, Lee's Summit, recording secretary of the State Federation; Geraldine Martin, Osage Beach; Joan Gieck, Belle; Helen Granstaff, Osage Beach; Edythe Miller, state personal development chairman; Mary Jo McGuire, director of District II South of Knob Noster; Myrtle Long, Waynesville; Alberta Stevenson, Gravois Mills; Erma Fajen, president of the Sedalia Club; Betty Blackwell, president-elect of the Sedalia Club and conference secretary; Marjorie Garansson, Sedalia, past State President; Hazel Lang, Sedalia Democrat-Capital reporter, and Harold Martin.

The entertainment of the afternoon was by Harold Martin who played several favorite numbers on the xylophone.

Betty Blackwell read the minutes of the 1968 Conference and read the roll call.

Helen Granstaff gave the report on registration with Belle Raving, 4; Eldon, 9; Gravois Mills, 1; Osage Beach, 6; Sedalia, 15; Sunrise Beach, 18; Warsaw, 12; Waynesville, 3. Warsaw received the award for the most percentage present according to the size of the club.

Betty Blackwell was elected Candidate Information Committee member and Karen Steele was elected alternate. Both are from Sedalia.

Awards given by Nyra Price were: newest member, Helen Etting, Sunrise Beach; youngest in age, Mary Ann Simpson, Warsaw; oldest in age, Edna Schramm, Sunrise Beach; longest continuous member, Gertrude Berlin, Sedalia.

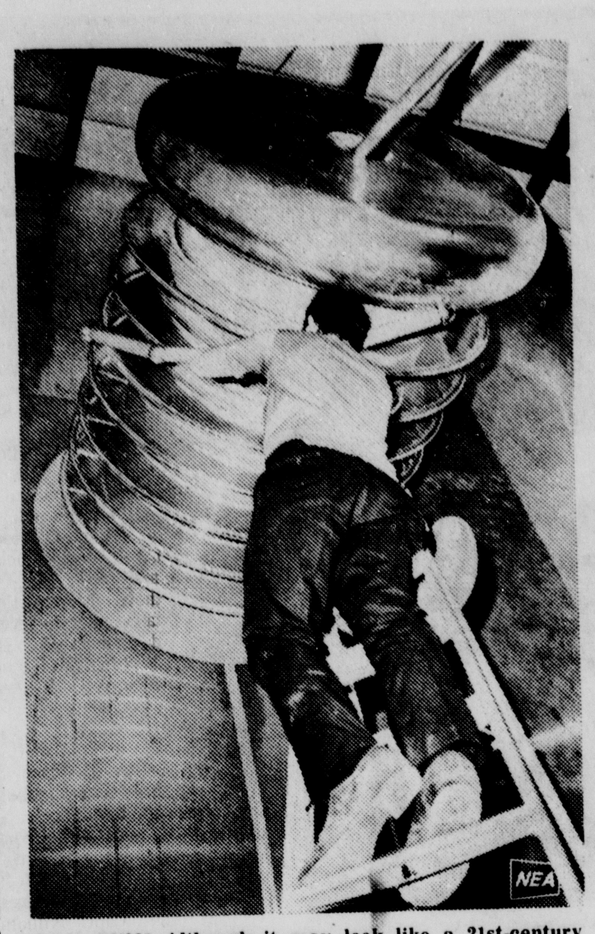
Mrs. Price divided the members up according to the committees they were on in their own clubs and asked them to come up with suggestions for these committees.

The newest club was Osage Beach, organized April 8, 1968; the oldest club was Sedalia, organized in 1923 and the club having secured the most new members since the year started in June was Waynesville with 11 new members. Each club president was given a Missouri History from the State Federation by Mrs. Price.

Erma Fajen extended the invitation for the conference next year to be held in Sedalia. The invitation was accepted by Joan Gieck, president of the Belle Club.

Attending from the Sedalia Club were Nyra Price, Erma Fajen, Marjorie Garansson, Marjorie Dey, Juanita Hood, Mary Green, Mary K. Hunter, Juanita Teegarden, Karen Steele, Donna Harrison, Margaret Ferguson, Evelyn Hagemeier, Betty Blackwell and Gertrude Berlin.

Mrs. Brown had as her traveling companion Mrs. Edna Hamlet, Bowling Green.



RAY GUN? Although it may look like a 21st-century weapon, this is really the first stage of the world's largest proton accelerator, now under construction at Batavia, Ill. Inside the tube, 750,000 volts will tear atoms apart and send protons speeding into a five-mile-long series of chambers in which their energy levels will be raised to 200 billion volts. The tube is constructed of an epoxy plastic reinforced with PPG fiberglass.

Debate Acreage Controls

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tug-of-war has developed among farm groups and the Nixon administration on whether soybean production should be included in government acreage control and export subsidy programs.

Soybeans, hailed as a miracle crop because of quadrupled acreage since 1948, come under the Agriculture Department's price support program but are not subject to acreage restrictions or marketing quotas.

Production has risen to more than one billion bushels a year, and when domestic and export markes slump the excess becomes the property of the taxpayer under the price support loan program.

Other major crops, such as wheat, feed grains and cotton are grown under programs providing for price supports in addition to acreage restrictions, payments to farmers for land taken from production and other conditions.

The administration, while not yet spelling out its proposals for farm programs in the 1980s, seems opposed to further tightening of crop controls and boosting commodity compensatory payments.

At least this appears to be the case involving soybeans. One of the Nixon administration's first acts after taking office last January was the decision to cut soybean prices supports for the 1969 crop by around 25 cents a bushel.

"The lower supports will permit soybean products to compete effectively in the market, and thus provide the basis for growth of the industry," Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin said on March 6.

Several months ago officials predicted the soybean carryover on Sept. 1 would be about 300 million bushels, compared with 166 million a year earlier. The department's official figure will be announced later this month.

Meantime, apprehension has grown among some farm organizations that lower support prices do not create expanded markets and that the department may seek further reductions for the 1970 crop.

The American Soybean Association, which represents farmers, recently urged the administration to keep price supports at the present $2.25 a bushel at least for 1970. The ASA also asked that soybeans be kept free of government acreage allotments and compensatory payments.

Another producer group, the Soybean Growers of America, wants Congress to enable the secretary of agriculture to impose acreage allotments and make payments for idled land when conditions warrant.

This view was part of a farm policy package recommended Monday by 22 "farm coalition" organizations, which called for extension of present farm programs, with improvements.

On Tuesday, the National Soybean Processors Association, representing the trade, urged the House Agriculture Committee to keep the crop free of government restrictions.

The processors noted also that with government programs on other crops farmers have been able to use soybeans as a "safety valve" in planning their production.

Also, the trade added, soybeans should remain free of international price agreements.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge—in a ruling the government hopes will strengthen its case against former Senate Democratic secretary Bobby Baker—has ordered a former Agriculture Department official to turn over some $40,000 in "secret gifts and gratuities" to the government.

U.S. District Court Judge Oren R. Lewis ordered Melville A. Drisko, former director of the Foreign Agriculture Service, to turn back $40,564 in gifts and cash he received from a salad oil manufacturer while in office.

U.S. attorneys who have a case pending against Baker say Judge Lewis' ruling may help them recover from the former secretary of the Democratic majority an "unknown" amount of private fees he allegedly collected for selling his influence while in office.

WASHINGTON (AP) — After first saying it went down, then saying it stayed the same, the government now says a key economic indicator—wholesale prices—went up in August.

Blaming the mixup on a "computational error," the Bureau of Labor Statistics said Tuesday wholesale prices went up one-tenth of one per cent last month.

"There was an error in the way the thing was computed," says assistant commissioner Arnold Chase, whose statisticians took issue two weeks ago with a White House statement heralding a downturn in wholesale prices. But at that time, the NLS said there had been no change since July.

Although not as optimistic about how government-imposed curbs on inflation were working, the BLS noted that the newly discovered one-tenth of one per cent rise—the same as from June to July—is smaller than in any other period this year.

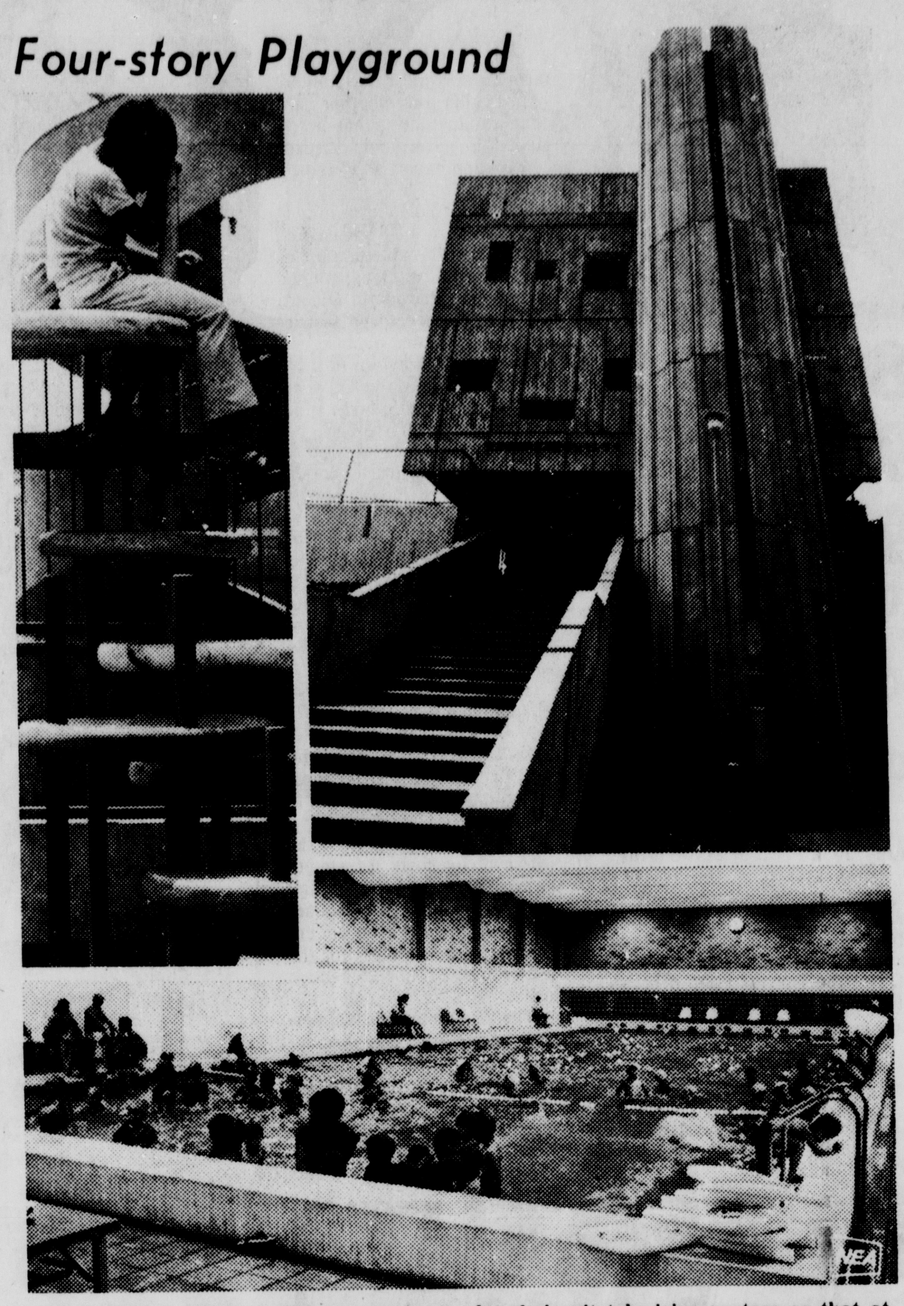
WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial output in the United States dropped slightly during August, the Federal Reserve Board says.

The index of production—based on 1957-59 output of 100—went from 174.6 in July to 174.3 in August, the board said Tuesday. The drop was cautiously hailed as an indication the government's fight against inflation is beginning to take hold.

Tempering the relief, however, was the announcement that the one sector of the economy which the government is trying to boost—housing—also dropped.

The Commerce Department said private housing starts were down again in August, continuing a decline that began in January.

Four-story Playground



This new play center in Tokyo contains a closed-circuit television system so that attendants can keep their eyes on children using the swimming pool, gymnasium and roller skating rink. Costing about $1.6 million, the steel and concrete building was financed with a loan from the Japanese government and bonds sold to area residents.

Designer Uses Gems

NEW YORK (AP) — "If you've got a pair of pliers and imagination, you can do an awful lot," said an assistant to jewelry designer Bill Smith as she held up a pair of pants made of gold coins.

The pants, along with a matching vest, were one of a number of items at a show Tuesday night of Smith's latest jewelry.

Smith said his designs are "jewelry as clothing. They are strong enough so they can be clothing in themselves."

A former dancer who worked in a jewelry factory when he first came to New York and finally decided he preferred jewelry, he said his designs "can be worn over clothing or instead of clothing."

The models Tuesday draped the jewels over simple jersey dresses by Jon Haggins, over body stockings and over bare skin.

Among the standout items were a long scarf of pearls, trimmed with cloth tassels, a metal cape with "pearlized" corks, a floor-length skirt of ropes of pearls, a short skirt and vest of jet beads and a pearl cape.

There are about two dozen pieces in the collection for Richilieu, retailing for between $35 and $250. The pearl scarf, for example, is $150.

Containerization Not As Rosy as It Looked

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Predictions that containerization is the wave of the future in shipping have been dampened a bit by an insurer who claims that waves of another sort are causing heavy insurance claims.

The container, which is called the greatest advance in packaging since the paper bag, usually is a large metal box of standard dimensions that can be interchanged easily among truck, train, plane and ship.

During these moves the cargoes contained therein never are handled individually. In fact, from the time the box is sealed until it arrives at its destination, the cargoes never are exposed to light of day.

Big savings are claimed. Pilferage supposedly is cut down. Damages caused by rehandling are lessened. Interchanges are speeded. And because the containers are of a standard size—often 8 feet by 8 feet by 40-feet—they can be store efficiently.

Now comes Capt. William Warm, an insurance man and a member of the container committee of the American Institute of Marine Underwriters. All is not well as it appears, he claims, at least in severe weather at sea.

The problem, as he sees it, occurs mainly when shippers store the big boxes on the decks in an effort to utilize every possible storage area. Many of these containers are lost overboard, the captain says.

"Cut crystal, furniture, liquor, wines, electronic equipment and so on—completely lost," he told a shipping conference here.

Even those that withstand the gales and seas and remain on deck sometimes reveal contents mushy as the sandwiches in the ice cooler that was left in the car trunk on a hot day in a long traffic jam on the way to the picnic grounds.

Opened at the destination, Warm said, containers sometimes "show a watermark from 6 inches to 4 feet high left by salt water, with the soggy, collapsed contents worthless."

Lest his remarks be interpreted to mean a permanent defect in the container method of shipping, Warm added that the problems are primarily growing pains that should not become permanent ailments.

Enrollment Goes Up

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Enrollment for the fall semester at the University of Missouri-Kansas City totaled 9,092 at the end of regular registration, an increase of 676 over last year.

Dr. James C. Olson, chancellor, said the figure is expected to be much higher after late registration and special enrollment totals are tabulated.

Cooper County Drive Will Begin Next Monday

BUNCETON — The kick-off meeting for the Cooper County CROP appeal will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at the Bunceton school cafeteria. CROP is the Community Hunger Appeal for overseas relief.

All canvassers, team captains and workers will attend the meeting to receive the supplies and training for the 1969 canvass. Attending the meeting will be Joseph Trower, Missouri CROP field director.

Trower will explain recent developments in the overseas program of CROP to help alleviate world hunger. He will also train the canvassers and workers for the canvass which will be held the week of Sept. 22.

Cooper County last year contributed $791 to CROP.

CROP ships contributed commodities as requested by church agencies overseas and uses funds to help provide for the handling and distribution of government-donated "Food for Peace" commoditics. Although ocean freight is usually paid by the U.S. government and inland freight by the receiving country or churches, CROP meets transportation expenses when necessary to assure delivery of foods and supplies to needy people. CROP also provides a variety of high protein food supplements, seeds and tools for self-help projects.

In addition, CROP funds are used to establish co-operatives, family planning clinics, and carry out experimental community development projects.

Replica of Flags Stolen from Center

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Replicas of 17 historic American flags were swiped from poles in Civic Center Plaza during the night, police reported Tuesday.

The flags usually are taken down at night, but stayed aloft Monday night in connection with the Mexican Independence Day celebration being held.

The flag thieves also took six of the 12 Mexican flags displayed. Among the American banners missing was a replica of the 13-star Betsy Ross flag.

Mrs. Gene Williams

Miss Barbara Wirthman Weds a Former Sedalian

LAS VEGAS, NEV. — On the evening of July 5, Miss Barbara Jean Wirthman and E. Eugene Williams were united in marriage at West Baptist Church.

The Rev. Arthur Smith, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Cummins, Gladstone, Mo., and the son of Mrs. Herbert A. Williams, 1600 South Kentucky, Sedalia.

The groom chose his brother, Cecil L. Williams, Sante Fe, N.M., as best man. Matron of honor was Mrs. Kathy L. Williams, Santa Fe, N.M., sister-in-law of the groom.

Arrangements of white chrysanthemums enhanced the candlelight altar setting. The bride wore a street length gown fashioned with scooped neckline, long sleeves and white eyelet overlay.

The couple now resides in Shawnee Mission, Kan.

Among the wedding guests were Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Williams, brother and sister-in-law of the groom, Arcadia, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey A. Lightner, sister and brother-in-law of the groom, Barstow, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Nelson, Tulsa, Okla.

Mind Your Money

Couple is Caught In 'Mobile Sieve'

By Peter Weaver

Q— We purchased a mobile home that had been lived in less than a year and a half. When the rains came, the ceiling leaked everywhere. We wrote the people who built it and called the man who sold it to us. No answer from the first. We got a "you - bought - it - it's - yours-now" answer from the salesman. A repairman recommended to us said the whole place was badly built. Can't we make somebody pay for these major repairs?

A— No, you can't. Buying a used mobile home is like buying a used boat. You should have had it appraised or surveyed by an independent expert. If you borrowed money from a bank to buy this mobile, sieve, the loan should have been insured. Most reputable insurance companies make appraisals of mobile homes, and they won't insure unless it checks out. Best deal now is to fix the place up the best you can, sell it and have the next home properly appraised.

Q— I received a letter in the mail asking for money to buy a gift package for our men in Vietnam. From reading the brochure, I got the impression that they don't get enough personal supplies like toothbrushes and razor blades when they are fighting out in the jungle. Is this true?

A — In checking with the Department of Defense, a Marine Corps officer said the gift package promoters "probably have their hearts in the right place, but there is not this kind of need." He says a whole list of PX personal items, including toothbrushes and blades, are airlifted free to troops in combat. They are paid for out of PX profits at the bases. The officer cited a home-baked cooky operation run by the faculty wives of a Western university as one of the most successful "show them you care" troop morale boosters he had seen.

Q— When I bought my first car last year, the dealer sold me an insurance policy, to go with it. This year, I became aware of the fact that I hadn't received any renewal notice or bill from them.

I called the dealer's office and was told they had discontinued this particular kind of policy and that I should find some other insurance agency. Now I'm stuck because three other agencies turned me down. One said I had a foreign accent — I'm from Argentina. What can I do? Without insurance, I can't use my car for my work.

A— Phone or write to the commissioner of insurance in your state. He'll probably get after that auto dealer for selling you a policy in order to sell the car and then allowing you to be cut off. He also might indicate where you can locate an insurance agent who is an automobile specialist. If for some reason you find it difficult to get an agent to take you on, ask the commissioner's office where you can apply for the assigned risk or "automobile insurance plan." If you are eligible, an agent or company has to sign you up. It's compulsory.

Q— When we made an application for a loan to buy a house, we were stunned by being turned down. The report said the the loan was being refused because of "outstanding indebtedness." After checking, I found that the local credit bureau was referring to a loan which I had repaid more than a year ago. How can we be protected from getting false black marks?

A— There is a Fair Credit Reporting Act being prepared to go before Congress. It would provide that the consumer be given a chance to correct any inaccuracies in his credit records and require credit bureaus to update files.

Meanwhile, until this legislation is passed, raise cain with that credit bureau. Work through your bank or where you are employed. Write a letter to the manager of the bureau, stating that his organization (or lack of it) is costing you money. Include copies of canceled checks, paid bills. Mention that you need quick action on this or an attorney may have to be consulted.

Beta Tau Meets

New program and year books were distributed at the Sept. 11 meeting of Beta Tau chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority. The group met at the home of Mrs. Shirley White.

Mrs. Shirley Martin, a transferee from Belton was introduced and welcomed. President, Mrs. White, conducted the business meeting and activities for the coming year were discussed.

Mrs. Deanna Franklin presented the program, "Introductions and Invitations." A question and answer period followed with members discussing various ideas on the subject presented.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. White and Deanna Franklin, co-hostess.

A get acquainted coffee was held Sept. 9 for Mrs. Nancy Capps and Mrs. Shirley Martin.

POWDER LINE

By Lynda Bernhardt

"How to Live With a Sunday Football Addict; or, Helpful Hints for Family Togetherness."

First of all, if your husband, boyfriend, etc., is a football addict, let it be said here and now that there is no known cure and there probably never will be. The closest you'll ever get to a cure is pulling the plug on the television set... and the cure may kill you.

So, with the first kickoff you have two choices..find yourself some quiet, out-of-the-way things to do; or, learn something about football so you can hang in there. By the way, lesson one: The kickoff is when all the men line up on each side of the middle line across the field and run at each other and the first one there gets to kick the ball. I think.

Now, as far as finding little "busy" things to do, we all know where to find them because we've been hiding them around the house all week and have no intention of taking care of those little chores. If you are fortunate enough to possess more than one TV set, you need read no further.

Now, permit me to let you in on a few little things I have managed to pick up along the way from watching the game. What one learns is usually self-taught because it's very hard to get a football addict to explain anything while it's happening.

Okay — ready? Now, the object of the game is to knock down and trample as many of the other team as possible. If the survivor crosses the end line with the ball he gets points. I don't know if he gets extra points for running under the posts at the end of the field but I know if he can kick the ball over the posts everybody gets excited. Now, that is really very simple, isn't it?

Unfortunately, sometimes the ball carrier gets squashed and drops the ball. In that case, it's a dogpile on the football and the man on the bottom with the ball gets carried off the field on a stretcher as a reward for being the one able to support the most players on his back.

Sometimes, the teams decide to start all over again and they line up facing each other. Then it's time for the "snap from center." That simply means that when the fresh fellow behind the big guy in the middle starts saying "hut one, hut two," the middle man snaps his fingers in time to the chant.

I think this is suppose to throw the other team off guard. Evidently, from the results I have seen in the past, it must work because one team will fall over the other.

By the way, those men in the black and white striped shirts are the wardens and they are supposed to keep the game moving. So, if things are slowing down the warden waves a little red flag and the teams get lively again.

Running back and forth can get a little boring, so when the teams want a change of pace they punt. This is a contest to see who can kick the ball the farthest, and if someone should catch the ball and run with it he is really in trouble because all the men will try to knock him down for cheating.

When one of the teams gets tired and has had four of their men knocked down, this is called "fourth down" and the other team gets to play with the football for awhile.

Some of the other terms you may hear are "blitz," which is some kind of cream-filled doughnut they sell at the concession stand. They must be good because the announcer is always saying the team members are running for a blitz, or something like that. Also, when a certain team plays you will probably hear the term, "Fearsome Foursome." This is a quartet that team brings to entertain them during halftime.

If all this seems a bit too much for you, there is a final solution.

Meet your husband face to face, call off a series of numbers, run a red dog, grab the TV set, come back with an off tackle, make a mad end run around him into the bedroom, lock the door and watch the afternoon movie.

"A little knowledge is a dangerous thing."

Mu Chapter Initiates New Society Members

Mu Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, international honorary society for women educators, opened its program for the year Sept. 13 with a luncheon meeting at Clinton High School with women from Henry, Cass, Johnson, Lafayette, and Pettis counties in attendance.

Mrs. Mildred Fern Leaton, Sedalia, accompanied by Mrs. Mildred Shultz, Warrensburg, led the group in "The Singing Grace" before the meal, and in group singing afterward. The afternoon program was an initiation ceremony for five new members, including three teachers from Sedalia and Pettis County. They were Mrs. Melba Van Vickle, Sedalia, teacher at Smith-Cotton High School; Mrs. Wilma Rhoads, Sedalia, music teacher at LaMonte and Barbara Leftwich, Hughesville, a Houstonia teacher. Other initiates were Mrs. Jean Foster, Warrensburg, Knob Noster music teacher, and Mrs. Lena Morton, Warrensburg, teacher at Southeast School there.

In addition to the initiates, participants in the initiation ceremony were Mrs. Drusialla Krockenberger, Holden, chairman of the committee on membership; Mrs. Evelyn Gaugh, Warrensburg, president of Mu Chapter; Mrs. Flo Mullis, Warrensburg, first vice-president; Mrs. Elizabeth Lee, Lexington, second vice-president; Mrs. Elizabeth Haston, Higginsville, recording secretary; and members Miss Ida Cruzan and Mrs. Anna Belle Lee, Sedalia; Mrs. Margueritte Hansen, remedial reading teacher in Sedalia elementary schools, Otterville, and Mrs. Bertha Hopkins and Mrs. Lucille Larson, Warrensburg.

The chapter voted to contribute to the Delta Kappa Gamma Educational Foundation in memory of Miss Dora Crane, former principal of Reese School, Warrensburg, and a charter member of Mu Chapter, who died last April. The Foundation provides scholarships of $2500 each for members to do graduate work in their field of study, preferably leading to doctors' degrees. Seventeen scholarships have been awarded for use during 1969-70.

The president reported that three members of Mu Chapter have been appointed to study committees for the next biennium. They are Miss Edith Brooks, Warrensburg, membership; Miss Adah Peckenpaugh, Clinton, scholarships; and Mrs. Anna Belle Lee, of Sedalia, publications and publicity. She announced that a state executive board meeting will be held Sept. 27 in Columbia. Miss Marian Smith, formerly of Sedalia, and a charter member of Mu Chapter, is state president and will preside at the meeting. Miss Smith is now a member of Pi Chapter, St. Louis.

Members from Sedalia and vicinity, in addition to those previously named, who attended the luncheon were Miss Edythe Couey, Mrs. Edith Donath, Miss Catherine Garman, Miss Frances Garman, Miss Nell Longan, Miss Minnie Murphy, Mrs. Imogene Peoples, and Miss Bessie Perkins, all of Sedalia, Mrs. Marie Bradley, Windsor, and Miss Mildred Dillon, of Warsaw.

Cosmopolitan Women Back College Bond

Mrs. Fred Davis spoke on the State Fair Community College bond issue to be voted on Oct. 7 at the Sept. 8 meeting of the Cosmopolitan Junior Women's Club. She was introduced by Mrs. Donald Magathan, club president.

A detailed explanation of the bond issue was given by Mrs. Davis and members voted to endorse the issue.

The group met at the home of Mrs. Michael Sikes. Co-hostesses were Mrs. James Edwards and Mrs. James Holman.

Mrs. Magathan welcomed new members, Mrs. Robert Nelson and Mrs. Darrell Bail. A letter of acceptance of membership from Mrs. Duane Slagel was read.

Mrs. Donald Thomas was elected to fill the vacant office of treasurer and Mrs. David Moore was named Christmas bazaar chairman. Workshops have been scheduled and all members were urged to be present on their assigned evenings.

Mrs. Charles Barnett, program chairman, presented Mrs. Lee Woodsmall and her panel, Mrs. Holman, Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Bill Turns, who gave a program on the workings of the stockmarket.

Moose Women Add Members

Seven new members were enrolled in the Sedalia chapter of the Women of the Moose at their Sept. 9 meeting. Mary Bryant, publicity chairman, was in charge of the program and refreshments.

The new members are Marueen Rudisell, Hester Burk, Dottie Hoffmaster, Helen McCune, Edna Strange and Dorothy Hefner, all of Sedalia, and Margaret Wells, Windsor.

Guest speaker, Lloyd Dueschle, spoke on publicity, explaining the different benefits derived from using publicity, as well as benefits through not using it.

Door prize winners for the evening were Argus, Ella Todd, and Guide, Ada Sue Potter. The dues drawing was won by Senior Regent, Gertrude Sameuls. Women of the Moose served food and dessert to the Little League Moose Champion A Team Sept. 4.

Miss Tuck Becomes Bride Of Donald Eugene Greer

Miss Barbara Jeanne Tuck became the bride of Donald Eugene Greer in a double ring ceremony August 15 at New Hope Baptist Church.

The Rev. Marvin T. Nobles officiated for the daughter of Lt. Col. (ret) and Mrs. Sam G. Tuck, Houstonia, and the son of Mrs. Helen Greer, 666 East 11th.

Bouquets of white gladioli and mums graced the church altar as Mrs. Teresa Tippie, Sedalia, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied vocalist, Roger Gildewell, LaMonte.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a sleeveless street length dress of pink lace over satin styled with scalloped hemline and round jewel neckline. A satin bow secured her short veil of pink illusion and she carried a cascade of white gladioli, sweetheart roses and variegated greenery.

Maid of honor, Miss Carol Ann Smith, Sweet Springs, and bridesmaid, Mrs. Jeanne Sessa, Knob Noster, were attired in pink, sleeveless A-line satin dresses and matching pink veils. They carried two long-stemmed pink bridal roses with green velvet trim.

The groom chose his brother, Ronald Greer, Sedalia, as best man. Robert Waler, Hughesville, uncle of the groom, was groomsman. Ushers were Gary Crosswhite, Houstonia and James Houchen, Jr., Sedalia.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tuck chose an olive green A-line silk dress and beige accessories. The mother of the groom was attired in an emerald green dress and matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of cymbidium orchids.

A reception was held at the church following the ceremony. Serving were Mrs. Mary Stevenson and Miss Janette Stevenson. Miss Sue Stevenson attended the guest book and Miss Kathi Greer and Miss Jamie Greer, sisters of the groom, were in charge of the gift table.

The bride's table was covered with white lace over pink satin and garlanded with smilax and matching satin bows. A three-tiered wedding cake and silver candelabras completed the table appointments.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Greer

Lutheran Women Have a Meeting

"God's Answer to Emptiness" was the September topic for the LWML Circles of St. Paul's Lutherna Church.

September hostesses were Mrs. Esther Rosebrock, Elizabeth-Eunice Circle; Mrs. Beverly Keller, Rachel Circle; Mrs. Agnes Buchholz, Rebekah and Mrs. Lillian King, Rhoda.

Topic leaders were Mrs. Erma Davis, Rachel; Mrs. Shirley Bergman, Rebekah and Mrs. Ann Thiele, Rhoda.

Prayer letters were read from missionary Don Neiswender, Nippon, Japan.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS
1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do...and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then — Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly, easily. Ask your pharmacist.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . small, easy-to-take tablets . . special sizes for children and adults.

Construction Project Ends Existence of Fairfield

By Hazel Lang

One hundred years ago, on March 15, 1869, the village of Fairfield was platted by C. B. Cunningham. Today only the marker of the Butterfield Mail remains in the little town. All of the homes and buildings have been torn down or moved away because soon the waters of the gigantic lake which will be created by Kaysinger Dam will spread over what was once Fairfield.

Strangely, while other towns are celebrating their centennials, little Fairfield ends its century of existence at the place where now only a marker stands.

First Settlers

The first settlers in Fairfield were three free Negroes.

George Alexander was one of the first white settlers, locating on Turkey Creek in 1832. Indians occupied this part of the county west of the Pomme de Terre until 1835 and in 1836, Alexander obtained a ferry license on the Pomme de Terre and Nicholas Campbell and a Mr. Harris laid out a townsite on their farm. It had a post office and was called Fairfield. Later the town moved across the river and about a mile north, and it was than that it was platted by Cunningham.

About three years after he settled on Turkey Creek, Judge Alexander bought an Indian village from the Indians for $60.

He was the son of Thomas and Yeureth Alexander and the family moved to Missouri from North Carolina. His mother, it is believed, was a member of the famous Harrison family of Virginia, descendants of Benjamin Harrison, one of the signers of the Declarations of Independence.

Used Slave Labor

When Judge Alexander lived on what is known as the old Howard place near Fairfield he had 23 slaves whom he used to build the old covered bridge and water mill at Fairfield in about 1839.

The first election in the new town was held in 1836 and he was elected county judge in which position he remained until 1844.

Each fall he would have 16 beef and 32 hogs killed so that those in his household would be well-fed during the winter months. He was a good man to work for and when the Civil War ended the older slaves did not want to leave. They begged him to let them stay on and he did, keeping all who wanted to stay as long as they lived.

Jonas Alexander, well-known shoe siner in a Warsaw barber shop, is a descendant of the Alexander slaves.

Scarred by War

Judge Alexander's sons were Mt, a lieutenant in Captain Holloway's company in the Mexican war. Tom, a Confederate soldier, was captured in the war in 1861 and taken out to Osceola and shot. Frank was badly wounded early in the war by the militia, lingering helplessly and suffering until 1868.

Alexander Township in Benton County was named for Judge Alexander, and the first township election was held at the home of Mrs. Crabtree. Later elections were in the homes of George Alexander and Nicholas Campbell.

The mill built by Judge Alexander was sold by him to a Mr. Barkley, who paid for it in silver, bringing it in a grain sack which he laid on Alexander's porch until the papers were signed.

Prominent Families

Judge Alexander was the wealthiest man in Benton County and so great was his wealth it took three days and three nights to tally all of possessions.

Fairfield Scene

An early day picture of the main street of Fairfield. On the right is the Eoff Store with an outside stairway leading up to the lodge hall on the second floor. The wooden wheel wagon and team of horses in the foreground belonged to Bud Wilson.

Also prominent in Fairfield was the A. J. Grace family, who resided at the end of Jackson Street. The sidewalk at the front door of the home ran three blocks down to the main street of Fairfield, and their granddaughter, Ida Mae, now Mrs. Warren Campbell of Edwards, remembers when she was a little girl hop scotching all the way to town on that sidewalk. All along, she recalls, the homes of the neighbors had nice green lawns and pretty flowers.

A. J. Grace was the grandson of Nicholas Campbell, and Mrs. Grace was the granddaughter of Judge Alexander.

During the gold rush in 1849 Campbell, along with a few other old settlers of the community, went to California. In fact he didn't go just once but twice, one trip made driving a mule team. It was on one of these adventures that he was captured by the Indians, but somehow he managed to escape.

Business Was Good

Fairfield was a prosperous little town at one time with a bank, a general store, a barber shop, post office and furniture store, a hotel, drug store, lodge building and three doctors' offices.

The name of the hotel was the Nelms Hotel and Tom Suiter had the furniture store. Bill Salley owned the barber shop and the drug store. On the second floor over the Eoff Store was the lodge hall.

The Historic Land marker of the Butterfield Overland Mail, situated on Main Street, has the inscription that the Edward K. Bailey Relay Station stood about two miles south of Fairfield where a brick house is believed to be the only remaining home in Missouri to have been used as a station. The people of Fairfield are wondering what will be done with the marker now that the town is no longer there.

Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Grace had the general store, as well as the post office and the telephone office. The telephone office was in the back of the store, since that was a very important part of communications, the family took turns sleeping on a cot in the telephone office to answer any emergency calls that came in on the switchboard.

Churches Important

Churches, of course, played an important part in community life in Fairfield. The land where the Baptist church stood was donated by Berniece Gower, and some of the early families in the church were the Redmonds, Alexanders, Graces, Hossmans and Hopkins.

The land for the Methodist Church was donated by Bill Cunningham and families in that church include the Wrays, Wilsons and Cunninghams.

Mrs. Grace's first name was Ida and Mrs. Lena Wilson, 97, who now lives in Warsaw, remembers that Mrs. Grace had a sweet and winning personality. She was always active in the church and taught a Sunday school class for more than 60 years.

In the town was a retarded boy about 15 years old, Mrs. Wilson said, by the name of Zab, and it didn't make any difference to Zab which church it was if there was a revival meeting going on he was there. When the minister would ask all those who wanted to join the church to come forward, Zab always went forward. He never failed to attend all the church socials, either, and one time when a Sunday School picture was to be taken Zab wanted to be in the picture.

Relaizing that none of the girls wanted to have their pictures taken standing by Zab, Mrs. Grace, in an effort to save all embarrassment, asked the boy to stand between her and Dr. James A. Logan, which really pleased Zab.

Later there was to be a business meeting at the church and Zab insisted he should attend while his mother tried to talk him out of it. She made an effort to explain that others in the church, who knew more about the church affairs than he did, should do the voting. But Zab was certain that he should be there to help take care of the church affairs.

"Well," questioned his mother, "just how are you so certain you know how to vote?"

"Oh," replied the boy, very sure of himself, "I just watch Ida Grace, and when she raises her hand to vote I raise mine, too."

Disastrous Fire

In 1951 a fire of unknown origin totally destroyed the Grace home. As Mrs. Grace, then 82 and her husband, 84, stood watching the flames eat the place that had been so dear to them, Mrs. Grace still expressed gratitude.

"It is just one of those things that happen to us all," she said, "and we're thankful that the family Bible was saved, for it had the family records and photographs."

And so it is with Fairfield. The people stood and watched their little town destroyed home by home, building by building, but they had time to save the family Bible with their records and the many things in their homes that they cherish. Yet, now and then while they watch a sunset or sunrise on the water of the lake, memory will reflect the beauty of the little town they once called home that lies beneath.

Gone Forever

All That's Left

Happiness is a doll at Christmas

Enter our Dress-a-Doll Contest.

Together we'll bring happiness to little girls this Christmas.

We have a supply of beautiful dolls which we plan to give free to as many deserving little girls as we can this Christmas. Each doll needs a dress, however, and here is where you come in.

Take home a doll. They are carefully boxed for easy storage. At your convenience, dress the doll and return it to us by November 21. As a guide, we have chosen six design categories that will help you decide on the type of dress or outfit to make. When all the dolls are returned judges will select the best dressed doll in each category plus a grand champion of the entire contest. There will be prizes, of course, to reward the winners.

Then the dolls will be identified and placed on display for two weeks. But the real purpose, of course, is to provide as many children as possible with an exciting gift at Christmas. With your help and the help of those who will distribute these dolls, we will do just that.

Come in soon. The dolls are available for pick up now.

Crossroads Comment . . . . .

A discussion involved definition of involuntary reflexes which was described as physical reactions by impulse rather than by exercise of the will.

A typical illustration of this phenomenon, if you want to call it that, was the incident reported from New York about a man who had become so despondent he resolved to commit suicide. So he jumped from a dock into the East river. A policeman rushed up, picked up a nearby rope, threw it into the water, drew his revolver and threatened to shoot the man if he didn't grab the rope as he struggled to get his breath. The man grabbed the rope not so much by obedience to the threat against the life that he was intent on destroying but rather by the impulse of an involuntary reflex.

Parents today attempting to convince offspring "they never had it so good," find this an exhausting bit of salesmanship in an era of educational progress on campus while the old folks foot the bill.

On the related subject of progress there comes to our attention a story about values and progress. A little boy asked his grandfather if he would help him write a school paper. The grandfather replied he would be glad to and asked, "What is the subject?" The little boy said, "We are supposed to show we are much better off today than the Indians were when they owned the whole country." To which grandpappy replied, "Let's think about that a moment...when the Indians owned this country all the men had to do was hunt and fish, the women did all the work, and there were no taxes to pay. Nope, grandchild, I don't believe I can help you write an article about us folks today being better off than the Indians."

Comment continues to arise about the great concern of our highest court over the legal rights of lawbreakers. Enforcement officers must follow meticulous procedures informing the culprits of their rights, otherwise light penalties or no punishment at all may be accorded perpetrators of the most vicious acts.

But for the battered citizen who is irritated by the weight of justice in favor of the lawbreakers, there is a ray of hope. The Internal Revenue Service has announced that an agent investigating alleged tax evasion must now advise the taxpayer at their first meeting that anything he says may be used against him, that he cannot be compelled to incriminate himself by answering questions or producing documents, and that he has the right to seek assistance of an attorney before responding.

Certainly, taxpayers should receive as much or more official consideration of their legal rights as do lawbreakers apprehended by enforcement officials. The Internal Revenue Service is to be commended for its action.

Democrats Appraise 1972 Prospects

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — One by one, the Kennedy loyalists are quietly abandoning Senator Ted Kennedy's sinking political ship; the idealists are beginning to gravitate around South Dakota's intense Senator George McGovern; the more opportunistic are edging toward Senator Ed Muskie, the man from Maine.

JACK ANDERSON

There has been little movement toward Hubert Humphrey, who is concentrating on a Senate comeback. Once he is safely seated in the Senate, he will be free to play presidential politics again.

McGovern is going through an agonizing political appraisal right now to decide whether to run for President. He has invited all Democratic state chairmen and national committeemen to his home for a political clambake. It will be an opportunity for them to look one another over.

Some former Kennedy lieutenants are also taking soundings in California, Texas and other political hotspots to find out how much support is available for McGovern.

Liberal Democrats generally like his stands but not his style. The Hubert Humphrey forces, during their 1968 search for a vice presidential candidate, gave this strictly confidential appraisal of McGovern:

"His peace identification and Kennedy relationship would attract some Kennedy supporters and heal some Vietnam political wounds. However, he is unknown, does not communicate strength or leadership capacity."

Muskie, meanwhile, has made his first discreet move toward the 1972 presidential nomination. He has started quietly to build a campaign organization, taking care not to appear too eager. For a presidential aspirant to get caught with his ambition showing is considered indecent exposure.

The Kennedy idealists, through impressed with Muskie's granite character, have reservations about his convictions. He hasn't been dovish enough to suit them, and they complain that he has never broken his lance in an unpopular cause.

The Humphrey forces last year made this confidential assessment of Muskie: "A former governor, a respected senator, he is well liked and would appear qualified and fully experienced. His Polish-Catholic background could also be helpful."

The confidential report, however, asked this question: "Does he show enough energy and other attributes of genuine leadership?"

Another member of the Kennedy clan, who has strong political appeal, could never get the backing of the Kennedy crowd. He is Sargent Shriver, a Kennedy in-law, who alienated the loyalists by giving allegiance to ex-President Johnson, then accepting an appointment from President Nixon as ambassador to France. Inside the family circle, only Rose Kennedy, the durable matriarch, will rise to Shriver's defense.

—Report on Shriver—

Humphrey was fully aware of this when he was looking for a running mate last year. The confidential report on Shriver stated: "He has a Kennedy identification even though some members of the family and group don't want him. He has an identity of his own, with a charm of his own.

"He is known as a man with a concern for the poor. He has appeal to the young via the Peace Corps enthusiasm and to the vital Negro vote in metropolitan areas. He communicates idealism. He knows the problems of the cities. He has had experience in business, education, domestic and foreign government. He would be an effective and tireless campaigner. He has no Vietnam liabilities. He has demonstrated loyalty."

It was this "loyalty" to the Johnson-Humphrey administration that the Kennedys regarded as "disloyalty." The confidential report warned: "Some members of the Kennedy family and team will be unhappy over his selection and might reduce their campaign effort."

Meanwhile, the bright, brash young men who formed around the late Jack Kennedy, then regrouped around the late Bob Kennedy, then regrouped again around Ted Kennedy, are now beginning to drift away.

—Haynsworth's Affiliations—

Supreme Court appointed Clement Haynsworth, who will be expected to rule on racial discrimination if the Senate confirms him, is a member of at least three all-white private clubs.

He belongs to the Commonwealth Club of Richmond, Va., also the Poinsett Club and Green Valley Country Club in his hometown of Greenville, S.C. The Anti-Defamation League informed this column that all three discriminate against Negroes. Club spokesmen, putting it another way, claimed that no Negroes had applied for membership.

Note: Haynsworth was the subject of the last story Drew Pearson started to write before he died. On his last tape, he dictated one sentence that has now been transcribed.

"Senators find themselves not happy about voting for the confirmation of Clement Haynsworth," he began. That was the beginning and the end, the last line Drew Pearson ever wrote.

—No Breakthrough—

The U.S. negotiators in Paris continue to get the same blank stares and broken-record statements from their North Vietnamese counterparts.

The Americans have offered, in private talks, to withdraw all American troops from Vietnam as expeditiously as possible. They have urged the North Vietnamese to accept this offer as a declaration of intent and to get on with the truce negotiations.

The North Vietnamese are still sticking to their demand, however, that U.S. troops be pulled out before the negotiations can begin.

What Really Is 'Sympathy' With Student Rebel Aims?

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)

As the country's college students stream back to school, the most fearful observers worry over public opinion poll figures which show that perhaps two-fifths of the students "sympathize" with the goals of the revolutionaries and radicals.

Since three or four polling agencies agree on the proportion of college youth expressing such sympathy, the figures themselves can hardly be questioned. Nevertheless, the impression left by these findings could be grossly misleading.

At the outset, it has to be noted that—at least in the radical world—the contriving of goals is a very special art.

To dispose first of the easy part of the matter, it is well-established that revolutionaries and radicals deliberately include in their goals some widely felt but minor grievances. This assures an automatic measure of support "on the cheap."

The larger point, however, is that revolutionaries—Communist, socialist, fascist or whatever—inevitably state major goals which are bound to be broadly acceptable in their general terms.

Douglas Pike, a specialist on the Hanoi-inspired National Liberation Front, notes that the Viet Cong's political objectives include building an "independent, democratic, peaceful, neutral and prosperous Vietnam."

In support of that aim, the NLF would promote the economy, education, culture, science, technology, public health, improved working conditions, veterans' and welfare benefits, integrated minorities, religious freedom and the rights of foreigners.

As he notes in his book, "War, Peace and the Viet Cong," these goals are almost "meaningless for political assessment." They are also the aims of the established South Vietnamese government. For that matter, adds Pike, what government anywhere in the world does not claim to stand for such things?

What it comes down to, in Vietnam or on college campuses or the American political arena, is what is to be done, specifically, in the name of such unchallengeable goals. And, most importantly, how it is to be done.

The opinion sampler's job is not finished when he reports that 40 per cent of U.S. college youths have "sympathy" for radical goals." What does that sympathy mean?

Are the presumably millions of student sympathizers prepared to follow the revolutionaries all the way in their violent "search-and-destroy" missions on the campuses? If not, where do they draw the line and why?

Large numbers of the sympathizers, often very bright young folk, insist they are against violence. Yet in the next moment they may add that they are willing to do whatever they must to achieve their goals. The logic of this is an inclusion of violence as a means of attaining their ends.

Hubert Humphrey took note of the youngsters' puzzling inconsistency in a speech in late May at Williamsburg, Va.

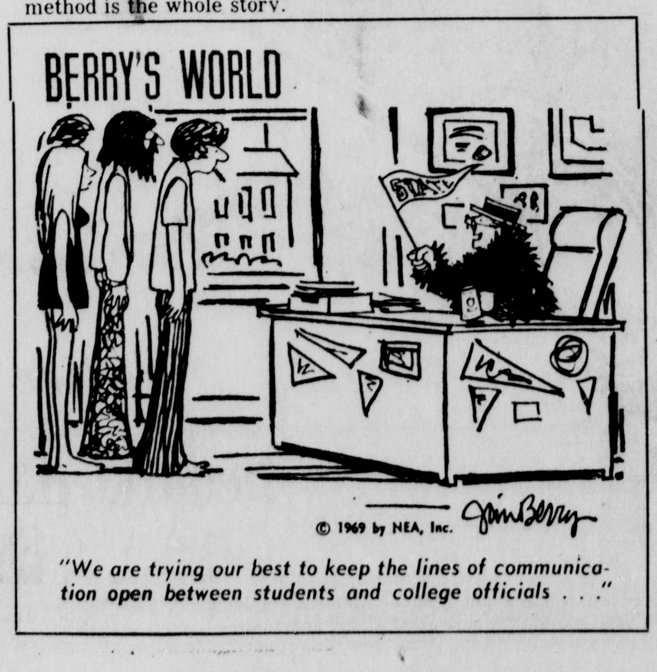
"In one breath, they insist on neat and rational order for society. In a second breath, they say that orderly thought and action imprison a man and corrupt the honesty of his responses."

Polltaker Daniel Yankelovich says that if the four per cent of revolutionaries can mobilize the sympathizing 40 per cent, "You have a mass protest."

The questions are: Mobilize to protest in what way? To strike? To burn down the school library? To assault unsympathetic students and teachers? To invade classrooms and try to shut others up?

If the mass of sympathizers really chooses to go that route in 1969-70 and beyond, then they will be well on the way to becoming nondemocrats—though it still would have to be demonstrated that such radical behavior would carry over into the adult political arena.

At the heart of the sympathizers' bewilderment is their confusion over "method." Their thing is to ennoble their goals and proclaim method unimportant. But in democracy method is the whole story.



"We are trying our best to keep the lines of communication open between students and college officials . . ."

There are differences between the expert and the average player. One is that the expert has put in many hours studying the game so he will bid better. Another is that the average player is apt to be too conservative at times and too optimistic at others. Experts go wrong here also, but the expert is either an incurable optimist or an incurable pessimist. He doesn't overbid one hand and underbid the next.

The most important single difference is that the expert makes the best percentage play on all occasions. The ordinary player doesn't worry about possible bad breaks and blames it on bad luck when things go wrong.

Today's hand is an example of how an expert takes precautions. South is very happy with his four-heart contract. West opens the king of spades and continues with the ace and seven. South ruffs the third spade and is ready to attack trumps.

The ordinary player will just lead one of his honors. East will take his singleton ace and undoubtedly will lead a fourth round of spades.

South will have to ruff high and this will establish the nine of trumps as the setting trick.

South has been unlucky. There is no reason for the singleton ace of trumps to be in the East hand but the expert would not have been unlucky.

He would have played a diamond to the ace after ruffing the heart and then led a trump from dummy. Most of the time he would make the same 10 tricks anyone else would. This time he also makes 10, whereas the other player has made only nine.

The famed Texas longhorns were brought to North America in 1521 by Gregorio de Villalobos, a Spanish viceroy to Mexico, reports The World Almanac. Originally, these cattle are thought to have been taken to Spain from Africa by the Moors. The horn length of a Texas longhorn ranges from three feet for bulls and 3½ feet for cows to as much as eight feet for steers.

Study Mission in Italy

By CYRENE DEAR

Florence, Italy — To attempt writing anything adequate about Florence after a brief visit of one day is a sacrilege. This cradle of the Renaissance on the fickle Arno, which has flooded it twice in its history, is a truly beautiful city. Located in north central Tuscany, it is surrounded by the Apennines and the Apuanians, gentle mountain forms of the Alps. It also lies between the Tyrrhenean and the Adriatic Seas.

Florence is still recovering from the flood in 1964. A great deal of help has been given her both in money and in manual skills by the U.S. and other nations to restore the rich art treasures and famous buildings. Some discoveries came out of the destruction, however. A tiny chapel was found underneath the cathedral, and several statues were reduced to their original coloring after being scraped and cleaned. With the reconstruction new buildings and new industries have been created. Florence is one of the centers of the leather industry and this past week was host to the International Leather Trade Fair.

A spectacular fashion show was held by the local leather merchants' associations. A leg show featuring only shoes and sometimes bags was bereft of the shapely upper half of the beautiful models. The footwear consisted of bulky heels, broad toes in a variety of colors and lots of brass. When the models showed their upper halves, they were attired in leather costumes which ranged from miniskirts to cocktail dresses and evening gowns. The smart leather coats trimmed with fur were the hit of the evening.

Florence boasts a modern newspaper plant equipped with broadcasting facilities, an auditorium, carpeted offices, beautiful paintings and a controversial right-wing publisher. He blasts his enemies on the front page, makes his profits from the paper's circulation and has very little advertising. He has a flotilla of linotypes and keeps his presses rolling at 11 p.m. at night.

One must go back to Florence to better understand its artistic antiquity. The Ponte Vecchio (Old Bridge), the oldest bridge in Florence, has withstood the two floods. The Pitti Palace is the most imposing of the Florentine palaces. It contains the Palatine Gallery, the Silver Museum and the Gallery of Modern Art. Among the famous paintings in the Palatine are two Raphael madonnas, Titian's St. Mary Magdaline, and other breathtaking works.

Michelangelo was a Florentine by choice, not by birth. His famous David in the Gallery of the Academy is the city's most famous tourist attraction. A replica of this original marble statue stands at the entrance of the Palace of the Signoria, not far from the fountain of Neptune. Michelangelo's last work is his unfinished Pieta in the Cathedral Saint Maria del Flore. His head of Joseph in the statue is a self-portriat.

The works of the masters give them immortality, but it is also impressive to go to the huge old Franciscan Church of Santa Croce to pay reverence before the tombs and memorials of Galileo, Rossini, Michelangelo, Machiavelli, and many others. Florence belonged to Dante and his Beatrice is given a place of honor on his memorial.

The city itself is such a gem nestled among the hills of Tuscany, and one can visualize the great masters roaming along streets comparing notes, when not at work in their shops and studios.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Brown Eyes, Blue Eyes--- No Set Hereditary Base

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—Our blue-eyed son does not believe he is our child because both my husband and I have brown eyes. In one side of his family tree blue eyes have predominated. I have always heard that two brown-eyed persons could have a blue-eyed child but that two-blue-eyed people could not have a brown-eyed baby. Is that true?

A—Although brown eye color is a dominant and blue a recessive hereditary trait, human genes have become so mixed that the simple Mendelian rules of heredity cannot be applied to man. Tell you son for me that in his own children, if he has more than one, any conceivable combination of eye colors may occur. As for your quoted statement, it is true in a general way but exceptions can occur.

Q—Is there any scientific reason why first cousins shouldn't marry?

A—If all the genes on both sides were desirable ones and no hereditary diseases or defects clouded the picture, this would be a strong reason for two first cousins to marry. Since this is rarely the case, such a marriage greatly increases the chances of perpetuating undesirable characteristics in an aggravated form.

Q—How great are the risk factors concerning the perpetuation of family weaknesses, mental or physical when third cousins marry? Would duodenal ulcer or colitis be transmitted to their offspring?

A—The risk in third cousins is so diluted that it is not much greater than when total strangers marry. Ulcers and colitis are usually caused by emotional stress. Heredity has nothing to do with their occurrence.

Q—What is the cause of a pilonidal sinus? Is it contagious? Can it be cured?

A—A pilonidal cyst is a developmental defect that occurs at the lower end of the spine. It remains rudimentary until late puberty when it is likely to increase greatly in size. It contains sweat glands and sometimes hair but it causes no trouble until as a result of an injury, it becomes infected and a draining sinus is formed. It is not contagious.

The standard treatment is complete surgical removal of the cyst. If any of the skin lining the cyst is left behind there will be a recurrence. A new treatment that shows promise consists of injecting full-strength phenol into the cyst and using a depilatory cream to keep the area free of hair.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q — The agent examining my return wouldn't allow all the contributions I'd claimed. Is there anybody else at IRS I can talk to about this?

A — You may request a district conference to discuss the disallowed deductions. Procedures for doing this are explained on the notice you receive explaining the adjustment.

This conference will provide you with an independent review of the items questioned. Legal counsel is not needed but you may bring someone to represent you if you wish.

Poor People's Lawyers Make Their Move

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Weiss, the philosopher, grins about the Hell's Kitchen hustler who gave her teen-age daughter territorial rights to two blocks of 51st Street. It was a birthday present.

He shrugs over the strange little man who lived in the same apartment with his wife and her lover two months before deciding his five children needed better care.

Jonathan Weiss, the lawyer, has to.

He defends them, for free. And he believes with a fervor he does it better than the few attorneys in private practice in New York's lower West Side slums.

Weiss is what's called a poor people's lawyer, one of 2,000 across the land under contract with the Office of Economic Opportunity to provide the indigent with the same legal help a monied man can buy.

About 100 of these poor people's lawyers, attending a conference last month in Vail, Colo., sent a 15-page telegram to OEO officials complaining their integrity and independence were not being protected by the Nixon administration. They also demanded immediate funds for several controversial projects.

Weiss, a lecturer at the conference, didn't sign the telegram. The protest, he said, was an "exercise in triviality."

Weiss' shingle hangs in Hell's Kitchen where it stinks when it rains and smells worse when the sun shines strong, where the people—the pimps, the deadbeats and the crazies—wear the cologne of poverty, Lava soap and sweat.

The people, his clients, don't stink to Johnny Weiss. He's got a credo:

"The other guy smells worse. No matter how bad my guy is, the other guys are worse. You gotta know that, the other guys are the bastards."

Bastards, to Weiss, are the slum landlords and the brutal cops and the institutional men, like in the Welfare Department, who make decisions and rules without regard for individual suffering.

Bastards. That's a milder word of Weiss. His speech is pimpled with epithets and vulgarisms.

He refers often and lovingly to his father, Dr. Paul Weiss, one of America's most honored philosophers now on the faculty at Catholic University in Washington, as a "hot ---."

Jonathan Weiss is a Yale man cum laude, a Fulbright scholar, a member of the President's Commission on Civil Disorders, sometime guest lecturer in law and philosophy and political science, an author and a television panelist. And he talks dirty.

It's shocking, at first. But hear the other lawyers in his office at 759 10th Ave., listen to the young activists in federal agencies and congressional offices in Washington, those committed to the new politics of youth, of battling poverty and racism.

Their speech is like that. Tough cult stuff. Partly it relates to the people they want to help, partly it is to avoid thinking of themselves as soft-hearted.

Weiss doesn't look tough at 5-foot-5 and 123 pounds, including the big brogans on his size seven feet and the thick glasses that keep skidding to the end of his small round nose. But that's deceptive. Weiss very likely has more cases on appeal in federal courts and on the way to the Supreme Court than any other lawyer.

He admits this, then orders, "Don't quote me. Arrogant though I am, I hate to sound it."

Divorce, child custody, delinquency, these are the scraps of law practice, the work most lawyers dread like the bar exam. They are Weiss' specialties.

Yet there is talk within the OEO of gradually shifting the focus of legal services from a case-by-case approach to undertakings that would affect greater numbers of the poor, such as suits against government agencies failing to provide adequate services.

"Crap," says Weiss. "What's a little case? You don't know what is a little case until you go into it.

"Secondly, what right have you to tell a client, 'You don't have a socially redeeming case and we won't take you.'"

One of these cases which Weiss took is now a landmark in social law. In it, the residency case, the Supreme Court ruled that a person need not have lived in a state for a year to get welfare.

But a week before the decision, the New York Legislature passed a law withholding such payments on the presumption that those applying within a year after entering the state had come for the purpose of getting welfare.

On a Wednesday, Weiss is before a three-judge federal panel in Albany arguing this new state law is unconstitutional. Pending a final decision, the court issues an injunction ordering the state to continue payments to Weiss' clients.

On a Thursday, Weiss is in a Brooklyn court acting for a man who wants his five children taken away from his wife. The woman, a narcotics addict, is living with another man.

"It's disgraceful," he gripes. "I don't even think child neglect cases are constitutional. What right have they to intrude on the family? Moral grounds? The privacy of personal morals are protected by the Constitution."

But the husband enters Weiss' office asking help. He's got no money and he wants a lawyer. That's what Weiss is there for. He takes the case and he wins it. The children are placed in a juvenile detention center.

On a Friday, Weiss is in Manhattan Family Court, again representing the husband. Before losing the children, the wife had filed for support. Weiss' defense is the obvious: why pay her when the children aren't with her?

Family Court waiting room at 9:20 a.m. is unreal despite the solid trappings of government.

It is a series of uncomfortable impressions: signs warning not to spit or smoke, the steady squish of cheap shoes on marble floors, quick sour whiffs of nervously digested breakfasts. One hundred and two pairs of eyes stare vapidly at the uniformed man who dully calls the next case.

Aim at Youth Market

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Basically, Hollywood is a business, with businessmen in charge. Art happens only as a lucky by-product, but first and foremost, films are for profit.

And, today, it is mostly the high school and college students who are going to the movies. Naturally, then, Hollywood is youth-oriented.

Look at the figures. The latest survey taken for the Association of Motion Picture and Television Producers has almost half — 48 per cent — of all admissions accounted for by the 16-24 age group. Projecting ahead, AMPTP says that by 1975 two-thirds of all movie tickets will be bought by the 16-30 age group, and 52 per cent by the 16-24 age group.

Producers are no dummies. You'll see precious few old-fashioned films made, because they're not about to alienate half to two-thirds of their potential customers.

"The fact that big and well-done movies like 'True Grit' and 'The Wild Bunch' are not doing as well at the box office as they were supposed to do," says director Mark Rydell, "is proof that the younger generation is buying the tickets. They're going to see 'Easy Rider' and 'Midnight Cowboy' and 'Midnight Cowboy' and 'Putney Swope.'"

Rydell goes on: "The younger generation is tired of nothing entertainment. They are choking on the pap of television. They want something with meat, something that has something to say."

"Young people want to consider the world of today, the world they are living in," Aldrich says. "And, let's face it, it's a world of violence and sex.

"I think the future of the movie business is in X-rated pictures. You can't tell stories of the real world, the violent and sexy world, honestly unless you have an X rating."

Jerry Paris is another top director. Up until lately he has done pleasant comedies. One was "How Sweet It Is!" with Debbie Reynolds and James Garner.

"It was a fine picture of its type," Paris says. "But that type will never be made again. There's no point in making them now. We've moved past that kind of movie."

Paris is now directing "Grasshopper," with Jim Brown and Jacqueline Bisset, the story of the disintegration of a girl. It isn't funny — but it is a story of now, a story with meat, a story they all feel the student generation will go to see.

Herbert Hirschman is producing "Halls of Anger," a film about a group of white youths who are bused to an all-black high school. Again, this is a film of today, a film of substance.

"The students of today," he says, "want stories that aren't cut and dried. Look at '2001' and 'If.' They both left room for the audience to think. They left you with doors and windows and the younger generation spent weeks discussing these films — and some went back four or five times.

"The students say, 'Don't tell us, let us find out for ourselves.' There are many moviemakers who recognize this and are trying to make films they want. But some of the old-timers are baffled by the whole thing. That's why you still see some movies which are anachronistic — and they generally are bombs."

Gradually, then, the impact of the student generation is making itself felt here. It takes awhile, but the story of the box office is increasingly clear.

The student-age audience want films of substance — and they are going to get them.

Chief's Home Target For Eager Thieves

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Burglars pried open a window and ransacked the home of Police Chief Ray Blackmore, making off with a $2,000 stereo phonograph, two television sets and $20 in cash.

It was the fourth house on Blackmore's block to be broken into in six weeks. Blackmore was at work and his wife was out when the daylight burglary occurred.

Baltimore, Md., was the first city to erect a monument to the memory of George Washington.

Execution Courts Operate in China

HONG KONG (AP) — "Mass denunciation" meetings in Communist China are being turned into huge, hysteria-ridden people's courts that are sending persons accused of anti-Maoist activities to their death, it was reported here today.

The reports, which reputable Western sources say have been authenticated to their satisfaction, say that since early August there have been at least three such people's court sessions in Peking that resulted in summary executions.

Other reports, not considered as solidly authenticated but given considerable credence, say there have been more such sessions in Peking as well as in Canton, the South China metropolis 90 miles northwest of Hong Kong; in Wuhan, in Shanghai and in Taiyuan.

In the Peking sessions, the reports said, more than 30,000 people crowded into a sports stadium. The accused persons were paraded onto a platform, and Communist authorities accused them of "great and heinous crimes" against party Chairman Mao Tse-tung; his political heir, Defense Minister Lin Piao; the party and the state.

The accused were not allowed to speak, and no one spoke on their behalf. The prosecutors asked the crowd: "Are these men guilty?"

The crowd, by that time whipped into a frenzy, shouted: "Guilty!"

"What penalty?" the Communist authorities asked.

"Kill them!" the crowd roared.

Immediately, the reports continued, the Communist authorities selected "representatives" from various parts of the stadium to be "execution witnesses." The accused persons were marched out of the stadium, followed by the witnesses and an execution squad of soldiers.

Shots were heard just outside the stadium, and the witnesses returned to report to the waiting crowd that the executions had been carried out.

Travelers arriving from Canton reported that in at least one such trial there, army squads executed the culprits in full view of the crowd.

Hopes for Additional U.S. Troop Withdrawal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon still hopes he may be able to move before the end of the year to boost U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam to about 100,000 men, administration sources indicate.

Even as Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird prepared for today's public detailing of Nixon's Tuesday order withdrawing at least another 35,000 troops from the war zone by Dec. 15, the sources said the manpower situation would be reviewed again, presumably before 1970.

Added to 25,000 brought out during the summer, the new Nixon decision will raise to 60,000 the number of American servicemen pulled back under the administration program to reduce the U.S. battle role and shift it gradually to the South Vietnamese.

Last June, Nixon told a news conference he hoped to do even better than former Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford's call for withdrawing 100,000 U.S. troops by the end of 1969.

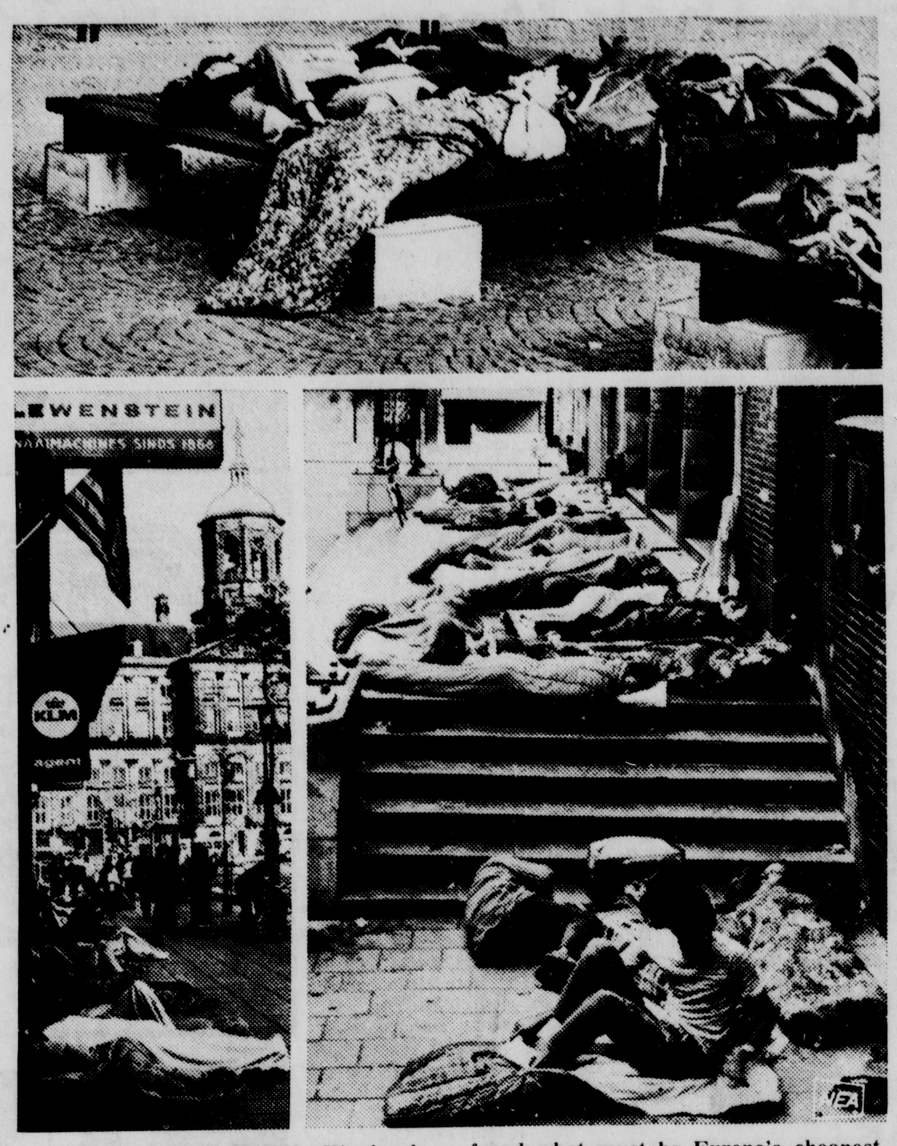
Asked about this, White House sources said Tuesday they had no indication Nixon was abandoning his hope.

However, Nixon is trying to avoid committing himself to any future cuts or to tying himself to any specific dates for reviewing the war situation.

However, it is known that top Pentagon authorities have been thinking in terms of a possible additional pullout decision every three or four months.

Under such a concept, it is possible Nixon could take another hard look in late November or early December and then announce plans for a third reduction.

White House sources said the forces to be pulled back include mostly ground units, about half combat and half support troops.



A NIGHT ON THE TOWN. Hippies have found what must be Europe's cheapest accommodations on the streets of Amsterdam, The Netherlands. Young people from all over Europe tend to congregate in the easy-going capital city, bedding down on benches and sidewalks in historic Dam Square.

Audience Voices Its Approval

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The printed program for the opening of the nation's opera season said, "No applause during performance."

But a sellout audience of 3,500 which paid from $12 to $50 a seat stopped the performance of Verdi's "La Traviata" with a burst of applause after each aria by Jeanette Pilou Tuesday night.

The New York Metropolitan Opera had canceled its Monday night opening—traditionally first in the country—because of a labor dispute. So the honor of opening the season fell to San Francisco.

At the end of the first act, Gov. Ronald Reagan of California left his box seat to congratulate Herbert Kurt Adler, director of the San Francisco Opera Co.

In a box half a house away was Reagan's prospective Democratic challenger in next year's gubernatorial election, Mayor Joseph Alioto.

Hundreds of spectators, clotted outside the San Francisco Opera House as always for an opening, saw the governor roll up to the red carpeted entrance in a Rolls Royce. Mrs. Reagan wore a black chiffon Gallegos gown with a jeweled bodice.

Mrs. John O'Hara of Burlingame, Calif., and her sister Mrs. William Connally of Tyler, Tex., wore boleros made from gold curtain hung in the opera house when it was built 40 years ago. The curtain was replaced last season.

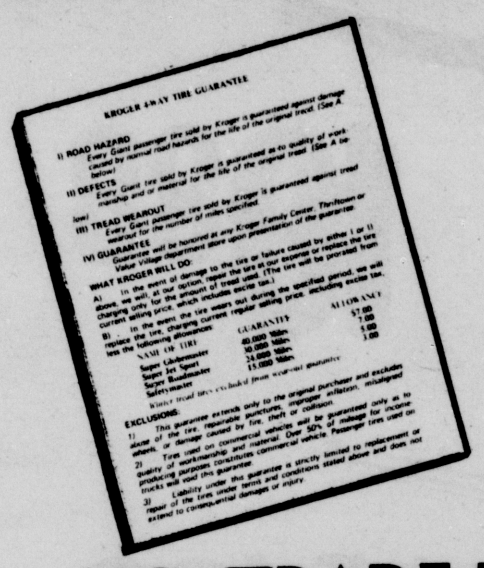
4 PLY NYLON CORD TIRES

18-MONTH GUARANTEE!



KROGER 4-WAY TIRE GUARANTEE

I) ROAD HAZARD
Every Giant passenger tire sold by Kroger is guaranteed against damage caused by normal road hazards for the life of the original tread. (See A below)

II) DEFECTS
Every Giant tire sold by Kroger is guaranteed as to quality of workmanship and of material for the life of the original tread. (See A below)

III) TREAD WEAROUT
Every Giant passenger tire sold by Kroger is guaranteed against tread wearout for the number of miles specified.

IV) GUARANTEE
Guarantee will be honored at any Kroger Family Center, Thriftown or Value Village department store upon presentation of the guarantee.

WHAT KROGER WILL DO:
A) In the event of damage to the tire or failure caused by either I or II above we will, at our option, repair the tire at our expense or replace the tire charging only for the amount of tread used. (The tire will be prorated from current selling price, which includes excise tax.)
B) In the event the tire wears out during the specified period, we will replace the tire, charging current regular selling price, excluding excise tax. We the following allowances:

	GUARANTEE	ALLOWANCE
Super Lifesaver	40,000 Miles	$7.00
Super Jet Sport	30,000 Miles	7.00
Super Roadmaster	24,000 Miles	3.00
Safetymaster	18,000 Miles	1.00

Winter tread tires excluded from mileage guarantee.

EXCLUSIONS:
1) This guarantee extends only to the original purchaser and excludes abuse of the tire, repairable punctures, improper inflation, misalignment of wheels, or damage caused by fire, theft or collision.
2) Tires used on commercial vehicles will be guaranteed only as to quality of workmanship and material. Over 50% of mileage for income producing purposes constitutes commercial vehicle. Passenger tires used on trucks will void this guarantee.
3) Liability under this guarantee is strictly limited to replacement or repair of the tire under terms and conditions stated above and does not extend to consequential damages or injury.
